BITS and PIECES

ASSHOLE OF THE MONTH

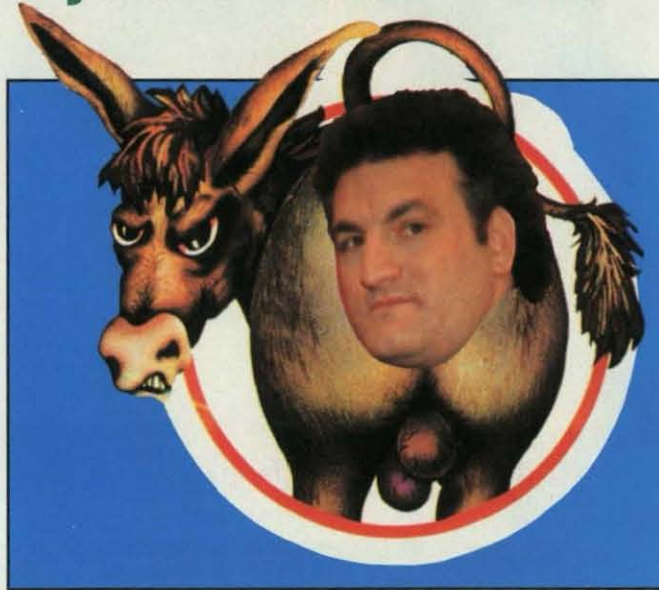

Maybe everything Joey Buttafuoco says is true, but he's HUSTLER's Asshole of the Month for May 1993 anyway. A 36-year-old man married to a woman who looks worn enough to be his spinster aunt deserves a benefit of the doubt when he claims to have never laid pipe to delectable jailbait Amy Fisher, even though her musky, teenage crumpet was his for the taking.

Every man worthy of shifting the heft in his trousers has told a story of denial similar to Joey's; some of these naysaying studs may have been telling the truth. It is, after all, within man's nature to turn down fresh, free pussy when it puckers in his face.

Joey Buttafuoco's personal blend of oral diarrhea is distinguished from the typical alleged Romeo's bullshit by its pervasiveness. The average compromised slob swears his innocence up and down on his mother's grave, and the rest of us hear very little about it.

"I want to be the Amy Fisher that I was before I met Joseph Buttafuoco," wished pistol packer Amy, 18, at a sentencing hearing where she was dealt five-to-15 for lodging a bullet in the neck of Joey's wife, Mary Jo Buttafuoco, 38. Fisher, who contends to have been statutorily raped by Joey Buttafuoco at the age of 16, steered into a mattress-back career by him, and encouraged by him to bust a cap into Mrs. Buttafuoco's head, was speaking for the rest of America. The country yearns for bygone days when the word Buttafuoco meant nothing more than

"rancid toilet splatter after a meal of spoiled Thai food."

In the months since May 19, 1992—the day nubile sociopath Amy Fisher walked up to the Buttafuoco porch and planted a slug in the lady of the house—the murky facts of the Long Island Lolita's simultaneously disputed and sordid connection with body-shop mechanic Joey have been broadcast in three network TV movies, written up in countless tabloid bursts and newspaper reports, milked dry by the suck producers of current-events sensationalism, and chewed into mush by innumerable talk-show blowhards. The reality of the events has become increasingly obscured as they have reached blanket exposure. Only one aspect of the Joey-and-Amy affair can be asserted with surety: The truth about what went on between them will never be known, and nobody would give a fuck except for the fact that butt-face Joey can't resist flapping his facehole any time some hairdo points a video camera at him.

"We live in a fishbowl," complained Joey's wife, who has been left deaf in one ear and paralyzed on the right side of her face due to her husband's nonaffiliation with an underage lunatic. "When my husband and I go out, sometimes he is taunted."

Mary Jo's feelings of persecution could only have been intensified by a subsequent appearance with her husband on the Donahue show (sort of like taking a dive from the fish bowl into the toilet bowl). Donahue's studio audience soundly jeered her spouse's incredible assertion that he had voluntarily passed up Amy Fisher's favors.

Even when Joey doesn't go out, he is taunted. Everyone from David Letterman to Madonna has ripped at the shreds of the Buttafuoco reputation, although he was doing fine on his own. Since being catapulted into the slimelight, Joey has bartered his credibility on Donahue, Larry King Live, and in a one-hour televised special, It's Joey's Turn (which, contrary to expectations, was not the story of Buttafuoco's first gang-bang pop). Newspaper reporters were welcomed to watch as Joey and family screened the TV movie of Amy Fisher's version of events, and New York's Newsday covered the scene as Joey and kin viewed Donahue's follow-up program to the syndicated "ambush." The Buttafuocos rode limos to Hollywood and consulted on a movie of their very own. Joey even flaunted his butt puke on the show of the very reputable Howard Stern.

"Can I be that dumb?" asked Mary Jo in reference to the man she still professes to love.

Joey Buttafuoco is a disgrace to anyone who's ever chased a piece of young tail, fucked around on his wife or scratched his balls in public. The danger is that people perceive Joey Buttafuoco as the kind of guy who reads HUSTLER, when instead he's the kind of guy who is a HUSTLER Asshole.

FARTS IN THE WIND

Bill Clinton: Before he'd even been inaugurated, Clinton had already "reconsidered" a promised tax cut for the middle class, scaled back a promise to cut the federal budget deficit in half, fudged his deadline on a promised economic plan, abandoned his promise to cut White House staff by 25 percent and shelved a promise to "end welfare as we know it." Clinton is a very promising Asshole.

George Bush: Caspar W. Weinberger, indicted on felony charges of perjury—pardoned. Clair E. George, former CIA official indicted on perjury charges—pardoned. Duane R. Clarridge, former CIA spook indicted for perjury—pardoned. Robert C. McFarlane, pleaded guilty to withholding information from Congress—pardoned. Elliott Abrams, pleaded guilty to withholding information from Congress—pardoned. Did George Bush need to cover up the delivery of missiles to Iran? Pardon us, Asshole.

Zoe Baird: Before she withdrew from contention, President Clinton's Attorney General designate was in the news for having hired wetbacks to work in her home, the least of her crimes. Baird's resume includes stints at General Electric Co. and as general counsel for Aetna Life & Casualty Co., placing Justice Department decisions in the breech of an Asshole with vested interests.

FATHER TIME

First off, I read HUSTLER all the time. It's the best. Mr. Flynt has got real class. I'm 33 years old. I robbed 21 banks. Police called me "The Body Bag Bandit." I made the newspapers twice. Funny story: My wife would not get a job; so, to take care of my three kids, I robbed banks. As soon as they caught me, she left me and took the kids! I guess that's what I get for falling in love. I'm sending you a photo of me robbing a bank. As you can see, I'm just kicking back waiting for the bitch to bring me the money. I would like you to print my letter in HUSTLER. Maybe one day I'll find a new woman!

—D. O.

Los Angeles, California

Your heart's so much in the right place, D. O., HUSTLER's going to invite any upstanding woman out there, who'd like to contact you, to fly a kite to Feedback. As for your head, there's nothing we can do to help that!

ORIGINAL FIT

I read the article "Make Girls Come by Cock Alone," in HUSTLER's February issue ("Make Girls Come by Cock Alone: Penile Manipulation Hits the Spot," Sex Play, February '93). The article talked about a new intercourse called "The Perfect Fit," supposedly developed by Philip Nobile and Edward Eichel, whereby the man positions himself to continuously rub against the topmost portion of the woman's vagina. This is nothing new. My husband and I have been doing it for seven years. These idiots haven't come up with a new intercourse. Sorry, guys! —Y. B. Henderson, Nevada

DOUBLE EXPOSURE

Being an avid reader of HUSTLER Magazine for many years, I thought you might find the two enclosed pictures clipped from Beaver Hunt interesting. The first is from your September 1990 Beaver Hunt, the second from your 1992 Holiday Issue Beaver Hunt. As you can see, identical Beaver Nicole doesn't look another day older two years later. She also appears to be wearing the same outfit, hair style, backdrop, etc. I don't like paying for the same material twice. If you paid Nicole $250 for each picture, then I'm not the only one who got took!

—P. F.

Chaplin, Connecticut

Thanks for bringing this little oversight to our attention, P. F. To get the most out of our $500, we're printing Nicole's pictures again!

LOVE—HUSTLER STYLE

I've been reading HUSTLER for about 15 years, and it gets better every month. My wife and I compare notes about the best-looking Beaver in each month's Beaver Hunt section, and the guy/girl pictorials are a big turn-on for my wife because of the close-up photos of cocks. You know what else? She even gets off on the gay ads in the back! One recent feature that really turned me on is the extended Beaver Hunt pictorial in the February issue entitled "Love—HUSTLER Style" ("Love—HUSTLER Style," Bits & Pieces, February '93), where an actual couple displayed the ins and outs of a night of raunchy sex. Tammy from Tyler, Texas, is one sexy looking babe. I've lost count of how many times I've jacked off to her pictures. I think "Love—HUSTLER Style" ought to be added as a regular feature to the magazine.

—T. M.

Round Rock, Texas

Beaver Hunt isn't in the habit of printing extended pictorials of Beaver couples humping, T. M., but if the right couple comes along....

NAUGHTY NATURE

After being introduced to HUSTLER by my husband, I won't go a month without the latest issue (though I get some strange looks at the bookstore)! I really enjoy the articles and the hot, beautiful women. The two things I enjoy the most are the girl/girl pictorials and Beaver Hunt—maybe you'll see me there one day! It's fun to imagine living out the fantasies of the models and picking out which, in my opinion, is the hottest Beaver every month. The ads in the back are good, but please take out the ones for bi/gay males. They are disgusting, and go against nature. My husband and I buy HUSTLER Magazine for the ladies, not the men! If we wanted to see this sort of garbage, we'd buy a magazine for bi/gay men!

BUTT-TASTIC

I used to read Playboy and Penthouse, but once I started getting a HUSTLER at the newsstand, I burned those wimpy fag mags! HUSTLER gives me what I want—lots of ass! Girls bending over to show off their firm, sexy buns and tight, little assholes turn me on.

Don't be shy—let's see a lot more ass on every page and full-length features on those beautiful, feminine shit-chutes and corn-holes! I will never again 69 a girl when I can ram my rod straight up her shit-shaft. Girls' assholes are ten times tighter than their snatches. All my dates get a derriere drilling! I have not found a girl yet who didn't prefer it up the ass! —S. M.

Springfield, Massachusetts

CANADIAN MISSED

Yo! What happened to the November 1992 issue, HUSTLER? I've been buying this mag for 15 years, and now I'll never waste my money on it again!

Oh, the issue was, as usual, nearly perfect, but the coverline "Whipped, Roped and Disciplined: Teacher's Pets at a School for Scandal" was misleading, in that it led me, the buyer, to believe that there would be a layout or story on S&M inside. Of course, no such story existed, and buyers were left holding the bag. What gives? —T. G.

Codroy, Canada

What gives, T. G., is that you live in Moo-seville, pal! Restrictive Canuck censorship codes demand that scintillating, groundbreaking literature such as HUSTLER's School for Scandal: Mistress Ava Spares No Rod—a story that was indeed inside November 1992's HUSTLER until cheese-head authorities your side of the border took over—remain for the edification of U.S. readers only. Get a Bill of Rights, why don't you!

HOWARD BLOWHARD

You short-dick bastards have no balls. You've got big nerve to cast aspersions on anyone, with that rag HUSTLER you put on the stands. Daring to make a deprecating comment about Howard Stern makes you fucking stupid. What he says over the radio is a lot less offensive than anything that HUSTLER deals with.

In fact, Howard's not offensive. But to compare him to that sleazy cottage-cheezy-assed, femiNazi-cow Andrea Dworkin marks a new low in HUSTLER humor ("Separated Afterbirth?" Bits & Pieces, January '93). Drop the DW and IN, and add an A, and you get ORKA.

Now, I've met Howard, and I've been on his show when I was in New York, and he may not be the best picture-taking person, but in person he got me wet! So think twice about writing some stupid shit about Howard. Or are you cunts just mad that he did the cover of Penthouse and not your fucking rag?

Last two words: Kiss ass. —Bha-Bha Booeey
Anaheim, California

Glad to hear that Howard got you wet; but, by the way, are you a man or a woman? And what the fuck is ORKA supposed to mean—Obnoxious Radio-host Kiss Ass?

ONLY IN TEXAS

HUSTLER, I need help! My wife's turn-ons are becoming my turn-offs. She is a cute, 20-year-old charmer. The trouble? These days, our customary sex act follows only after her fantasy of being ridden like a beast of burden is satisfied. She has a saddle, bit, whip—the whole nine yards—and gets off by taking me for a ride. She weighs about 105 pounds. On her hands and feet, she can carry me (160 pounds) on her back, along with the weight of her saddle, for an hour, easy!

My hard thrashings with a whip in an attempt to turn her off this nasty business proved otherwise: She enjoys pony riding more than ever. I wish horses could talk and tell her the misery of being tied down

EDITED BY SCOTT MALLORY

SEX UNDER GLASS

Three-Quarters Erect. Directed by Michael Craig; starring Victoria Paris, Cassidy, Leanna Foxxx, Peter North, Jon Dough, Melanie Moore, Celeste, Woody Long, Mike Horner, Randy West and Tom Chapman. Videocassette: VCA. Shot on film.

Victoria Paris is hopelessly trapped inside her own sexual obsession; she can only laze about a cheap motel room banging her pussy endlessly while getting off on watching other people fuck. Videotaping some very willing subjects, including a carnal coupling of Leanna Foxxx and Tom Chapman that ends with a shot across Foxxx's face, Paris is more concerned with viewing than doing. Melanie Moore is the real untamed twat; she has her pink pulverized twice. The psychological drama and Michael Craig's sure-handed direction wind up taking precedence over almost all the sex. A stylish stroker, Glass glistens with quality, and spanking the stick becomes a secondary purpose for watching. How many fuck films can make that boast? —Sam Lowry

Cassidy almost overpowers the story.

Moore is the real untamed twat.

Monroe's Sex is as natural as her chest.

It's a good Bet that Sparxx likes licking boy butt.

Tianna serves up Hungarian goulash.

SEX BANDITS

Totally Limp. Directed by Jake the Shootist; starring Tami Monroe, Mona Lisa, Alicia Rio, Persia, T. T. Boy, Peter North and Jonathan Morgan. Videocassette: Zane Entertainment.

A more appropriate title would've been Silicone Bandits, as three of the female stars possess the most ridiculous inflations this side of a Macy's Christmas Parade float. It's a good thing there's no heat in any of the flick's fucks to risk explosion of the combustible busts. Tami Monroe's enormously asexual boobs sit atop her petite frame like Bozo's red, floppy shoes. Her sexuality is even less natural than her chest. Her "climactic" meeting with T. T. Boy, whose sneer and self-loathing wore out their welcome long ago, is strictly fuck-1-2-3, turn-4-5-6 choreography that culminates in a cum-shot that slides off her silicone silos like egg on a non-stick skillet. On the bright side, there's no plot to fast-forward through.

—Seth Roberts

YOU BET YOUR BUTT

Half Erect. Directed by William Black; starring Carolyn Monroe, P. J. Sparxx, Persia, Nikki Sinn, Lynette, Jake Steed, Peter North, Cole Stevens and Scott Irish. Videocassette: VCA.

This is basic slapped-together stuffings—no story, just one hole after another being pricked and prodded. Of the five scenes, two are zipper-burning boffs. A red-hot hump between P. J. Sparxx and Peter North starts with some crud-hole tasting. Sparxx lovingly laps at North's shit pit, which clearly delights the sturdy cocksman. When Peter flails his tongue at her chocolate cavity, P. J. responds with enough zeal to nearly take out a camera. Although no closeup verifies violation of Sparxx's shitter, her look makes it appear that North may have hit paydirt. Cole Stevens deftly drills Carolyn Monroe in her asshole, making her gasp, quiver and wail like the sultry tart she is. Monroe obviously likes to get butt-fucked. Despite Lynette's remarkable areolas and squirting cunt, Bet is a stroking gamble.

THE HUNGARIAN CONNECTION

Half Erect. Directed by Patrick Collins; starring Tianna, Noelle Budner, Hildegard, Judit, Jacqueline, Tunde, Cizella, Lara and Mike. Videocassette: Elegant Angel.

In a series that has begun to lose its drive, Tianna again assumes the Buttwoman role and discovers the true meaning of Hungarian goulash: guttersnipes who were probably streetwalking ten years before Elegant Angel arrived with a video camera. A blonde with a hollow, junkie bod spreads for a bogus policewoman's strip search before the "cop" brandishes a strap-on and plugs her in a filthy, bombed-out building. Later, a blonde/brunette lesbian couch-trip is weaker and fuzzier than most amateur flicks. The camera-on-the-street setups are slow, and the sex is hampered by an obtrusive jazz soundtrack. Even the usually intense Tianna seems subdued, perhaps because she never gets fucked. Only Lara, a slutty blonde with a Victoria Paris overbite, provides any quality sleaze as she yelps, "I'm a bad girl!" while a paunchy foreigner plugs her oily puss. This sexual travelogue should severely reduce Hungary's tourist business.

"ARE THEY REALLY GOING TO HIRE AN EX-PORNO PERSON?"

KELLY O'DELL

The first time Kelly O'Dell had a cock in her mouth was at 15, when she was raped by 14 black guys. "I lived in a bad neighborhood in Philly, and that kind of thing was pretty common," O'Dell reveals. "It took me a couple of years to get over that and to do it and really enjoy it. I'm attracted to black guys, I just...I still have some blocks about them." O'Dell was an 18-year-old waitress in a pizza parlor when a would-be musical star invited her to move to Los Angeles with him. While he hung around the Whisky, she stripped at bachelor parties. "I picked up the L.A. X-Press and read an ad saying '$2,500 a day—no sex!' and I was really intrigued. I started doing magazines, bondage mostly. Then I got hooked up with Ed Powers. It all kind of snowballed from there." O'Dell, who dumped the guitar player, can be seen in Dirty Books, Video Virgins, Dirty Debutantes 14, Wildflower, Legend 4 and Radical Affairs 1.

Do you ever play with yourself?

I carry a vibrator in the car a lot. The truckers love it. Especially in my convertible.

What won't you do in a video?

I won't do anal because I've never been into that. I'm not a real raunchy person. And I won't do gang-bangs. To me, those are unusual. I don't see how a girl could really like to do that.

What about the future?

I see myself going to school while I'm still in the business. I want to be a teacher for messed-up teenagers. I used to be there; so I think that I could contribute a lot. And then I was thinking, Are they really going to hire an ex-porno person?

SEX TREK 3: THE WRATH OF BOB

Half Erect. Directed by Scotty Fox; starring Domonique Simone, Alicia Rio, Patricia Kennedy, Shayla LaVeaux, Fantasia, Randy Spears, Mike Horner, Joey Silvera, Randy West and J. B. Videocassette: Moonlight Entertainment.

Captain Quirk (Randy Spears) and crew of the Plunderer are once again captured and fucked by the alien vixens of Youranus, a foul-smelling planet inhabited by randy bimbos and by Bob, who seeks revenge for having been abandoned there. Wrath features a clever script and plenty of raunchy fucking and sucking. Of note: Galactic-titted Domonique Simone gives her black hole to Randy West, then shares Spears's jizz-fueled booster with Shayla LaVeaux in an explosive Big Bang. Meanwhile, Fantasia's fantastic lip-fuck of Mike Horner is nothing short of stellar. Most of the cast pays more attention to their dialogue than to the sex, which detracts from the eroticism. Nonetheless, Sex Trek 3 is dirty and fun—ideal for bachelor parties and Trekkie conventions.

—Tony Cara

Simone's stellar tits are worth the Trek.

I'M TOO SEXY

Half Erect. Directed by F. Ross; starring Deidre Holland, Melanie Moore, Gail Force, Chanel, T. T. Boy, Marc Wallace and Jon Dough. Videocassette: Caballero.

Box-cover cunt Deidre Holland does no dick but Jon Dough's, and not until the bitter end. If she's supposed to be Too Sexy, she certainly never shows it. She does have a dyke dalliance mid-flick, but watching Holland lick clit just isn't the same as seeing her suck prick. Only the first fuck, featuring Melanie Moore tongue teasing T. T. Boy's turgid tool and jerking his brew onto her lips, and the fourth fuck, highlighting Chanel's ball-licking oral affections on Marc Wallace's whang, with Moore joining in for a double prick lick and dual face-basting, make this tape even halfway sexy.

—Woody Hood

Sexy Chanel is a cunt contortionist.

Sparxx is the hot channel on X-TV.

Lere will make strokers Touch themselves.

X-TV

Half Erect. Compilation; starring Tianna Taylor, Alicia Rio, P. J. Sparxx, Tom Byron, Mike Horner, Rocco Siffredi, Melanie Moore, Raven Richards and T. T. Boy. Videocassette: Vidco.

Saucy, young P. J. Sparxx kicks off the action by fantasy-humping Rocco Siffredi through three blistering, ear-piercing orgasms. Mouth-fucking, tit-fucking and ass-licking: Sparxx loves a tongue probing her rear hole, and she gets her chest creamed. Mike Horner crams cock past Raven Richards's cum-hungry lips, then fiercely bangs her from behind. The tape's middle is clogged with a pair of uninspired, two-gash threesomes, but it's brought to a prick-tingling climax when a doggy fuck between Melanie Moore and Tom Byron turns wildly anal. Even as sloppy seconds, this is hard to beat. —T. C.

I TOUCH MYSELF

One-Quarter Erect. Directed by F. J. Lincoln; starring Heather Lere, Bianca, Melanie Moore, Mona Lisa, Peter North, Jonathan Morgan and Robert Lere. Videocassette: Metro Home Video.

Heather Lere takes great delight in fucking face. Power gleams in her eyes as she straddles a head and stuffs her thick-lipped, shaved cunt into a mouth. She grinds and twists and humps, spreading her juice around like an alley cat leaving its scent. "You like your face fucked, don't you?" she laughs, looking down with equal parts contempt and glee. Heather pummels two faces in this grind-it-out stroker, supposedly directed by F. J. Lincoln, but looking more like it was guided by an absent-minded traffic cop. When she isn't getting smothered by Heather, Mona Lisa provides the only other whack-worthy moments. Lisa's eyes roll back into her head while she intently sucks cock. Her slick clit stiffens as Peter North slides his considerable girth into her asshole, and viewers shout I Touch Myself. —Scott Mallory

GANG BANG GIRL 6

Half Erect. Directed by Christopher Alexander; starring Heather Hart, Ashley Nicole and the Gang Bang Guys. Videocassette: Anabolic Productions.

Obviously, no one explained to Ashley Nicole what the guidelines are for being a true gang-bang girl. Surrendering to a legion of lingam is only part of it. A woman earns her GBG stripes by having her face doused in buckets of cum. Heather Hart is well-versed in the prerequisites; after four scenes her face is covered with so much cream that Dairy Whip could use her as a spokeswoman. Nicole, however, goes dry, disappointing those who find her face perfect for foaming. The final scene, in which Nicole and Hart service an entire wedding party before Nicole gets married, is the top torque, as spill after spill clogs Hart's complexion in one of the gooiest grins of the series. —S. L.

At least one Girl is a cum-eater.

Every stroker knows that Porn Valley keeps pink and fertile through a constant irrigating flow of new, drippy pussy. Nothing makes a boner garden grow like a new set of lips. If one is good, three is better; so plant some seed in Alicia Rio (spread at sea in A Weekend With Alicia Rio and Sheila Stone), Becky Bardoux (open for a splash on her upper lips in Brother Act) and Sascha (formerly Sierra, but still a dirty blonde in The Fisherman's Wife).

WHISPERS

Half Erect. Directed by Jim Enright; starring Marissa Malibu, Kiss, Nicole London, T. T. Boy, Marc Wallace, Mona Lisa and Jonathan Morgan. Videocassette: Hollywood Video.

A badly staged murder mystery, with dialogue the performers can't recite without embarrassment, Whispers is saved by the say-it-out-loud sights of T. T. Boy's index finger knuckle-deep in Nicole London, Mona Lisa's wet, pink bear trap of a cunt holding Marc Wallace, Kiss's stiff, beckoning nipples, Yorkshire-pudding pussy and cum-covered chin, and Marissa Malibu's pleased-to-serve cocksucking. Despite quality quim and inventive camerawork, a lazy story and the frustrating fact that butt-girl London is never rear-ended ensure that Whispers is barely heard above the average. —S. M.

Malibu's Whispers can barely be heard.

JUNGLE JIVE

Half Erect. Directed by Jim Enright; starring Melanie Moore, Patricia Kennedy, Teri Diver, Julian St. James, Cassidy, T. T. Boy and Sean Michaels. Videocassette: Vidco.

Melanie Moore hasn't been laid by husband/club owner T. T. Boy in months. When she asks for it in the first scene of this biracial banana bangarama, she's given a slammin', jammin' spank fuck that leaves cum dripping from her chin. Black studs Sean Michaels and Julian St. James don't get laid until bossman Boy heads off to audition dancers Teri Diver and Patricia Kennedy. St. James then slips dick to housemaid Cassidy, while Michaels slams his big, hot, black poker up Moore's pink pussy. Though raunchy and well-produced, the sex is standard and predictable—except for a scene in which Diver does a gullet job on Boy's swollen prick, swallowing him whole. —T. C.

Moore's pink pussy is stuffed with Jive.

I AM DESIRE: THE TRUE STORY OF JULIA BLACK

Half Erect. Directed by Robert McCallum; starring Tiffany Mynx, Alana, Trinity Loren, Saki, Peter North, Cal Jammer, T. T. Boy and Ron Jeremy. Videocassette: Western Visuals.

The True Story of Julia Black is short on veracity and long on desire. While the plot is imbecilic, the dialogue dimwitted, the acting asinine, the camerawork cliched and the music mediocre, the sex is pocket-rocket-launching raunch. Five facials, four buttock bonings, a tubesteak-tingling threeway and seven sizzling fucks in all make Julia a bonafide crotch-fire starter. Alana, her Dyan Cannon curls flying wildly to hide an empty left-eye socket, devours dicks with depraved intensity—a woman whose picture belongs next to the word slut in the dictionary. Tiffany Mynx may seem innocent as a country girl getting her first taste of the big city, but her muff, mouth and amorous ass milk meat as the most seasoned cum-gobbler would. Turn down the sound, and the Julia Black story is too good to be true.

—W. H.

Keep an eye on Alana's Desire.

hard and ridden at will!

In absence of that possibility, I'm turning to HUSTLER to convince her of the stupidity of this act. Her insistence that it is perfectly okay, and her explanation that many people are involved in this kind of an act, is totally unconvincing to me. She is obviously in need of some education.

—B. B.

Houston, Texas

Hitch a plow to her heinie and ride her off to the backyard garden, B. B.! Draft horses learn to dread the saddle. Either that, or put yourself out to stud!

BUSH WHACKED

Regarding J. L.'s letter in the February 1993 issue of HUSTLER Magazine ("Election Results," Feedback, February '93), who shaved her pussy bald for Bill: Just because she shaved her pussy bald doesn't mean she can't ass fuck, does it?

I would love to pin J. L.'s legs behind her head and fuck her up the ass. That way, I could see my fat cock slide in and out of her browneye while watching the juice flow from her hot, slick valley of love. She would adore it!

Send some pictures of your denuded nookie to Beaver Hunt, J. L.! If you're willing to show your bald cunt at parties, then why not in HUSTLER? A bald pussy is a terrible thing to waste! Show it!

—B. P.

Indianapolis, Indiana

Thanks for printing my letter, HUSTLER! It was great to see it in print ("Election Results," Feedback, February '93). Too bad you didn't print a picture of my photo button, endorsing Bill Clinton with my No Bush position! I thought it was neat, but that's okay. I still love HUSTLER.

I have had so much fun with my bald pussy that I think I'll keep it! Guys just love to eat my bald pussy, and I love to come in their mouths—what a switch, huh?

It's usually the guys wanting to come in my mouth! That's great and fine with me too, but I like to be the center of attention now. I love to see my cum dripping from their chins for a change.

—J. L.

Farmington Hills, Michigan

*You didn't send a model release with the picture of your photo button, J. L. Sad to say, that little oversight cost you the audience of untold HUSTLER readers. Turn to Beaver Hunt for entry details, if you're game, and give the whole country a peek at your puckered poon!*

BLACK CAT ATTACKS

Okay, HUSTLER, your advertisement department has completely taken advertising to a new level.

The ebony Amazon on the subscription ad on page 11 of your December 1992 edition, posing with the two snarling Dobermans, is without a doubt enough to make any reader drool.

Not only does this doll make me want to take a bite out of newsstand prices in the subscription ad in which she appears, but I crave a bite of her as well.

Expect my order for a subscription; but I must see this Amazon in a full, pictorial spread, with or without the K-9s. Bring her to me!

—A. X.

Florence, Arizona

You'll find the dark meat you crave in the January 1993 HUSTLER, A. X., where Lo' Retta: Black Cat struts her stuff.

As a diehard HUSTLER fan, I can count on one hand the times there's been a black woman in a HUSTLER layout, and I don't think I've ever seen a black girl on the cover. Is it that you muthafuckas have finally seen the light? You have just as many black people to buy your book as white folks. After seeing the photographs of Lo' Retta by Clive McLean (Lo' Retta: Black Cat, January '93), my dick got so hard, I could use it to chip ice. A toast to HUSTLER for starting off the year on the right foot!

—G. L.

Macon, Georgia

NEEDLE DICK

I don't want to brag, but I seem to have the smallest dick in the nation. HUSTLER's article on penis enlargement (Dr. James Elist: Building Better Penises, March '93) gave me hope that I don't have to live forever with the curse of this affliction. How can I contact Dr. Elist about improving my condition?

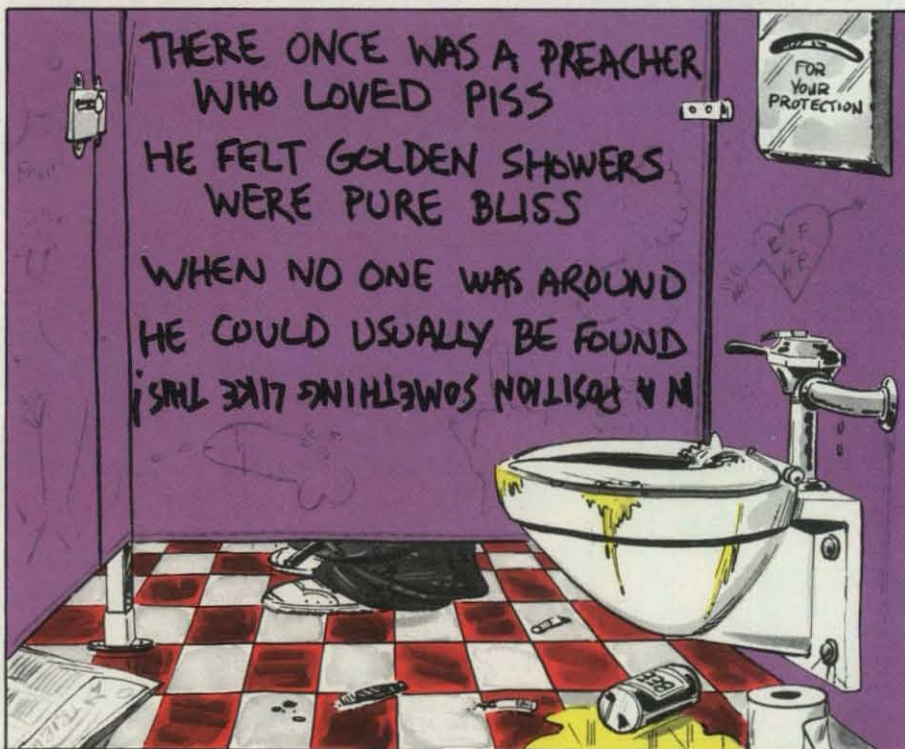

—S. S.

Van Nuys, California

Anyone wanting to rise to the occasion can contact the miracle-working penile resurrectionist at this address: Dr. James Elist, 9400 Brighton Way #409, Beverly Hills, CA 90210.

Do you have a comment, suggestion or complaint? We want to hear it. Send your letters (typed or neatly handwritten) to HUSTLER Feedback, 9171 Wilshire Boulevard, Suite 300, Beverly Hills CA 90210. Include a phone number if you want your letter considered for publication.

FLASHING IN THE SENATE

The recent news about Bob Packwood [the Oregon Senator who's been accused of sexual harassment] made me realize that I too may have been the victim of a Senatorial sex violation.

I won't reveal the names of those involved until I'm sure that what happened was illegal. I met a man in a famous bar just down the street from the Capitol Building. I admit, I was there to meet a nice, rich politician. A guy sat next to me at the bar; I'll call him Jack. He told me he was the Senator of this particular state. He seemed far too young, but his suit reeked of wealth. I let him buy me a gin gimlet, and we talked. The more I drank, the more nerve I had; I told him I didn't believe he was old enough to be a Senator. He leaned over his barstool and slid his hand along my thigh, higher and higher, stopping only when he reached the spot where my stockings ended and my upper thigh was bare. My heart fluttered when his hand then pressed further up my skirt and stopped at the intersection of my leg and hip. He was inches from my pussy, and I had no underwear to impede his march. "Let me prove it to you," he said. I had forgotten the question.

We caught a cab to the Capitol, where he took me on a tour. There I was, small-town girl from the cornfields, walking across the empty Senate chamber. It was late, and the room was dark. An imposing aura hung about the vast, wooden tiers. We walked to a tall podium, where he wrapped his arms around me. As we kissed, his hands grabbed my skirt and pulled it up over my naked bottom. His small hands grabbed my flexing butt and spread the cheeks wide. A blast of hot air seemed to shoot from under the politician's podium up my ass. His tongue felt thick against my own as his thumb caressed the opening of my vagina. He brought the moistened finger to my mouth, and I gladly sucked my own juices. He suggested we go somewhere safer.

He seemed the perfect gentleman as he led me down a long corridor, to the Senate washroom. He had a key; so I knew he was for real. The place was empty, and he wasted no time unzipping his silk slacks. "Sit down and suck my cock," he said plainly. I sat on a dressing bench and grabbed his muscular prong. He was short, but thick. I ran my teeth under the ridge of his prick, scraping the sensitive skin. He continued undressing and instructed me to do the same.

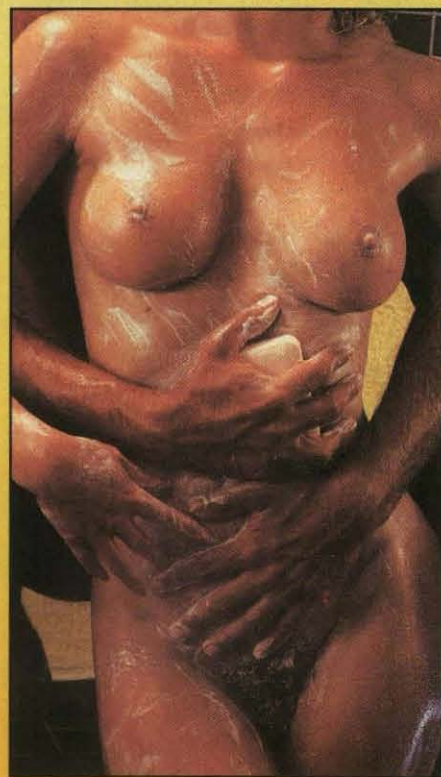

The moist breeze of the shower area pricked my nipples to life. I was turned-on as he led me to the private Senate showers. Curiously enough, the water was already running as he began to soap my body, paying special attention to my breasts. My tits have always been hypersensitive, and a chill ran through my pussy as he pressed my tiny nipples. His strong hand left white finger imprints in my tan skin. He was standing behind me, shoving me forward into the shower's steamy glass. I didn't want to appear slutty, but I couldn't resist grabbing his soapy hand and running his fingers between my thighs. My pussy was slippery. My dark bush had become frothy white.

With my back still to him, Jack slid his dick inside me from behind. The water trickled over my head, down my back and between my ass, providing instant lubrication for his penetration. I think I quipped from the excitement, because I heard a tiny whoosh of air escape behind me. He was pumping very roughly, and his balls were slapping my labes hard. "Take it easy," I said to him at one point.

"I like it rough, baby," was his reply, and I knew then that this was not the man of my dreams. As he pawed my tits, I figured I should at least get a good orgasm out of the guy. I pushed my pussy harder into his crotch. "That's it, babe," he slurred.

"C'mon, Senator," I exhaled, "show me how a bill becomes a law!" I pulled away and pushed him with my hand. He slipped on the wet tile and fell to the shower floor. Before he could get up, I sat on his crotch and fed his hard cock into my hungry pussy. I was so excited that my muscled ass left dark, red marks on his thighs every time I bobbed down on his dick.

"Take it easy," he begged, trying to move his face away from the hot water's spray. I barely heard him, totally lost in the fuck. I reached between his legs and grabbed his balls. At one point, I pictured Justice Long Dong Whatshisname and instinctively banged my fist against the poor guy's sack like a gavel. "Come on, you fucking bastard—shoot your load!" I demanded. Jack looked scared.

I hopped off his dick and inhaled it with my mouth. It tasted like my salty pussy. I pushed his lumber past my tonsils until I practically had his balls in my mouth. I worked my tongue like a jackhammer. I didn't even realize he'd come until thick gobs of whiteness began leaking out the side of my mouth like toothpaste.

HOT LETTERS

I spread apart her butt cheeks until her asshole opened a good quarter-inch, pulled my prick from her puss and aimed at her tiny shitter.

"Baby, that was great," he smiled, breaking my reverie. Suddenly, from behind the glass door, I heard scattered applause. I stood and saw three guys standing with cameras around their necks, and tripods in their slacks. I felt strange, almost violated. I even dribbled some pee uncontrollably onto the guy's chest below. I'm really not a slut, but there was no explaining that to them. I ran to get dressed. I heard the guys mumbling that I was "the best ever." I'd been scammed. It turned out that Jack was not a Senator, but a Senator's errand boy. Apparently one of his errands involves securing the key to the Senatorial chambers, photographing sexual exploits and then showing them to his boss. So much for checks and balances!

I wanted to inform the authorities, but Jack told me that I would never be believed. I couldn't afford to get arrested; so I kept my mouth shut. Those bastards even sent me one of the photos in the mail. I'm sending that photo to you as proof of my story. Now that the Packwood case is in the open, I think mine should be next. Consider this an exclusive.

RANGER DICK

I enjoyed your article about con men who earn cash through street scams (Penny Ante: The Major Hassle of Two-Bit Scams, February, 1993). It reminded me of a scam I pulled a long time ago, not for cash but for gash. I've never done well with the ladies; something about my tall, gangly body and prematurely receding hairline turns them off. But I still have needs.

I lived across the street from a park at the time. It was a place where the community-college football assholes would bring their cheerleader girlfriends after games for a little massage therapy. I watched them neck in the cars, and usually that's where the action remained. One autumn night, however, I spied an adventurous couple making out against a Volkswagen bug. Between the half-empty bottle of wine on his hood and the firm grip he had on her tit, I knew this interlude was headed straight inside her young pussy!

The guy locked the car door and led his babe to a dark corner of the park. My high-range binoculars provided a clear view. The couple stopped at a softball diamond and sat on the dugout bench. He hung his letterman's jacket carefully on the fence, while the chick pulled off her tight school sweater. She had a stunning pair of ta-tas, easily D-cups, but young and still free of sagging stretch marks. She had dirty-blond hair that hung straight to her shoulders. Her puffy lips were stained purple where the wine had rinsed away her slut-red lipstick. She pushed her creamy tits together with both hands, smiled with a touch of evil and dropped to her knees. Stud man evacuated his Levi's and rested his dick on her forehead. She rubbed the meat across her face and gave his balls a good sniff. I knew she was only fucking this jock for reputation's sake.

A quick scan of the park verified that the couple was alone. I ran to my room and prepared the con. The polyester, khaki Park Ranger outfit scratched my boner as I tucked the noodle between my legs. A tiny stain of pre-cum soaked through the front of the fabric. I prayed I wouldn't blow my cover before I could have it blown. I grabbed my flashlight and fake plastic badge, and I split.

I approached them from the opposite corner of the field. She was on all fours, balancing on the wooden bench. Mr. Dickhead was fucking her from behind, reaching under her torso and steadying himself with two fistfuls of tit. I had seen enough porn movies to know she was faking an orgasm. I checked my nose for boogers, switched on my flashlight and pointed it accusingly at the pair like God in the Garden of Eden.

He pulled his dick quickly from her snatch; the condom dripped with her inner grease. She grabbed her tiny tank top and tried to cover up, although her right breast was all she managed to conceal. Little, white goose pimples rose in her large, red areolas.

"You two got some ID?" I asked in a serious tone. The guy freaked, probably seeing daddy's allowance and graduation gift flash before his eyes.

"No, sir," he stammered. He was the kind of dickhead jock who used to kick my ass in school just for laughs. Now he was putty in my hands.

"You both know this is a public park, and public fornication is against the law," I continued the act. They looked nervously at each other. I grabbed the walkie-talkie from my belt and clicked a button.

"Wait!" the girl shrieked. "My father will kill me!"

"Number seven...a trifle odorous, perky flavor, pleasing to the palate...."

Nirvana Sues HUSTLER

NEW YORK—"I'm not full of shit!" exclaimed Nirvana leader Kurt Cobain. "I was a punker and junkie before anyone knew it was cool." The band has filed a libel lawsuit against HUSTLER Magazine objecting to a picture in the March 1993 issue, which predicted that Nirvana will soon become so full of shit, their faces will resemble phony politician Ross Perot's.

"We are for real!" insisted Cobain after rock's newest bad boy received permission from Saturday Night Live producer Lorne Michaels to smash his instrument onstage during that night's television appearance.

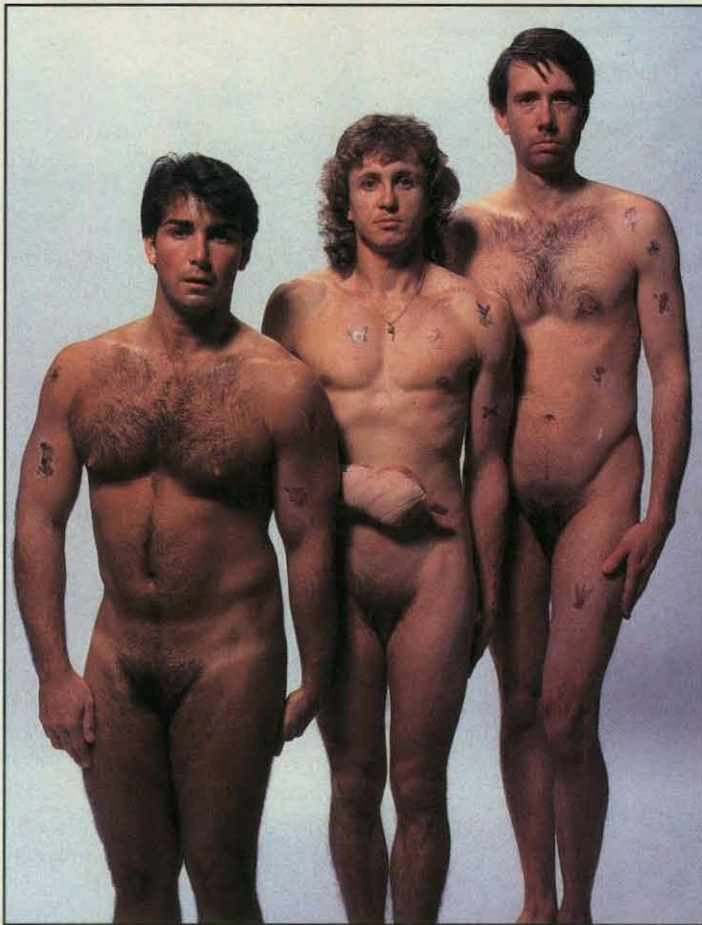

Cobain, whose band left the SubPlop label as part of the Seattle purge, admits having an addiction to diarrhea that has placed him in heroin detox more than once.

Cobain's lawsuit was officially filed two days ago when the band took a break between publicity photo shoots for Rolling Stone, Spin, Westlake High School's monthly paper and a coupon booklet to be placed on windshields in parts of Wisconsin.

Although Cobain denied further reports that the band is full of shit, he did admit that Nirvana earned its lucrative deal with Geffen Records only after Cobain met privately with a top executive and played with his withered

Red Hot Dingle Berries Rock's Latest Shitheads

HOLLYWOOD—Claiming that the time is right for another band of shit-sucking, tattooed love boys who look like unwashed bums, Warmer Buttocks Records announced today the signing of the Red Hot Dingle Berries.

This latest in a long line of bands unburdened by actual talent will release its debut LP, Shit Piss Fuck Scum, next week. The band members have bothered club-goers in L.A. for the past 11 years, and are so used to having label-executive dick up their ass that that's where they keep their own.

"We're not ripping off any other bands," singer Anthony Clingitis admitted to BMTV's Kurt Floater. "Our music is our own. It's, like, a piece of us. We have our own, unique blues-based style, and we'll never change for anything. Unless, of course, another label executive can whip out a bigger

Ice-T Sues HUSTLER

BEVERLY HILLS—Wimp rapper Ice-T has filed a libel lawsuit against HUSTLER Magazine for a January 1993 pictorial entitled, "Who's the Biggest Pussy?" The feature questioned whether Ice-T was a bigger pussy than the gigantic twat of porn centerfold Christy Canyon.

"I ain't no motherfuckin' pussy, motherfucker!" Ice-T declared in a prepared statement. "These motherfuckers can suck my motherfuckin' dick if they think I'm gonna take this shit lyin' down!" Ice-T became so tense that he left the stage to lie down and freshen up with a Summer's Eve douche.

Insisting that he will always fight to keep his "street credibility," Ice-T waved to fans from the back of his white stretch limousine, where he sat with his accountant, publicist and fashion coordinator.

Since he stirred up this latest controversy, two new movie deals have surfaced for Ice-T, according to his agent, Peter Pussystein. He's up for the lead in both I Am Curious Pussy and Sweet, Sweetback's Pussy-Ass Song.

The rapper will spend the next three days in the Time Warner executive offices, acting as a house boy and satisfying his contractual obligations by plugging the

by Liz Shit

•After years of shitting musical waste, Whitney "Bodyguano" Houston and David "Carpet" Byrne have had their assholes sewn up at the request of President Bill Clinton, who "wanted to give something back to the MTV crowd that voted for me." Unfortunately, their colons have now backed up, and the shit is spewing from their mouths. Longtime fans admit, the change is hardly recognizable.

Marky Mark had an asshole stitched over his mouth to ease the inevitable process, as first reported in the February '93 issue of HUSTLER Magazine.

Golden Loaves

After kissing the industry's golden butt, Phil "Ca-Ca" Collins accepts the award for the year's Smelliest Single, "I Can't Shit."

Phil "Ca-Ca" Collins Shits Biggest Loaf!

HOLLYWOOD—After receiving his Golden Loaves award, "Ca-Ca" Collins thanked the other members of Genesoil for helping him produce such a megashit. Collins later told the press his next projectile will be a benefit album co-written with Stink called Where The Sun Don't Shine. Proceeds from the album will aid a humanitarian relief effort to hire a hitman to kill every member of U2 and REM.

Li'l Bo Peep Show Craps Up New Record

SUN CITY—After losing her job as a shepherd, Little Bo Peep Show has become the latest in a long line of no-talents who've turned to gangsta rapping to make a quick buck. She's currently putting the finishing touches on her debut album, Fuck Da Sheep. Seen here unveiling her gangsta weapon, Ms. Peep Show will release her first single, "Mother Goose Up Your Ass," next week.

Wiped Up!

HOLLYWOOD—The Golden Loaves Awards were trotted out last night, as the industry basked in the artist manure at the Hollywood Bowl. The audience was flushed with the most important bowel movers and shit shakers as the industry took its annual BM in the p.m. Some of this year's biggest pinchers included Eric Crapton for his album, Plugged Up; Public Enema for Best Crap Album, It Takes A Nation of Buttplugs to Hold Us Back; Travis Shit for Best Country Fartist; Color Me Brown for Best New Fartists; and Megadefecate plopped off with Best Metal Record for Countdown to Elimination. Perhaps the biggest surprise was Madonnarrhea, whose fetid flow was shut down this year by what one intestinal insider blamed on "her constipation of talent."

Streisand Fishes for Award

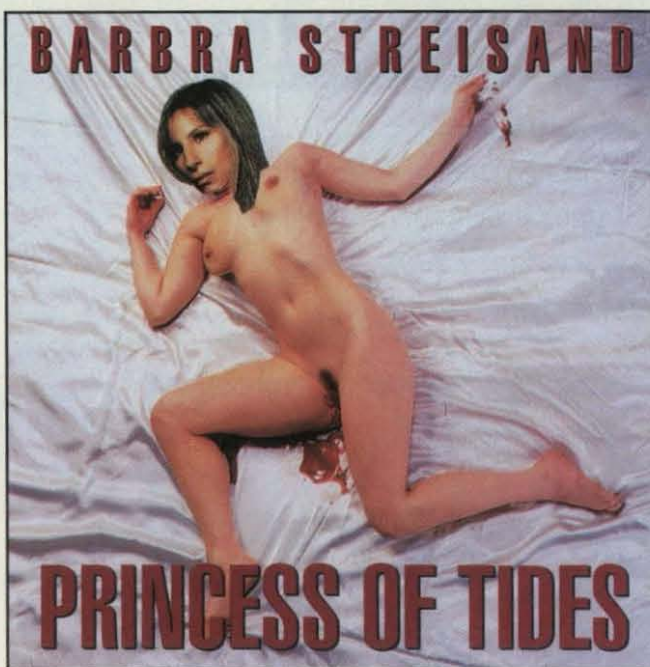

HOLLYWOOD—Protesting what she called "industry bias," Barbra Streisand pulled a turd out of the women's toilet and sprayed it gold to prove that anyone can be a winner. Butt Executive of the Year David Geffen, who happened to be sitting in the stall just two doors down, said, "What a fucking bitch that Streisand is! Why doesn't she shut her goddamn trap?" Streisand could not be reached for comment.

Prince is in the toilet! Despite signing a multimillion dollar contract with a horde of short-sighted Japanese businessmen, Prince has come a crapper by recording the shittiest album of his career. Executives at Sooty Records have reportedly been heard chanting, "His name is Prince, and he is fecal."

"Missy, I'm just trying to help." I smiled. "You're very pretty, and you never know what kind of creep could be cruising the parks." I brought the walkie-talkie back to my mouth. She got the hint and moved toward me.

"Wait!" she begged. "Couldn't we just keep this between us?" She let her shirt slip from her fingers and fall to the ground. She ran her fingers seductively along her slender belly. Even at 18 years young, pretty girls have good instincts.

"I tell you what," I began, turning my flashlight off. "Why don't you two finish what you started, and we'll see what we can do."

The girl turned to her naked boyfriend, who was frozen in fear. I looked the asshole in the eye, pointed to her well-trimmed pussy and said, "That's an order, son."

"Come on, Keith," she said. "What's the harm?" My kind of gal. She placed her hands on the bench and stuck her ass toward the moon. Keith bent down and kissed her mouth. I reached out and ran my hand along that smooth butt. It was slightly larger than my palm and firm as my cock. My fingers crept underneath and diddled her puss. It was wet as a musty morning dew, and I slid a finger easily inside. The cool, night breeze rustled the trees behind her as I ran my index finger between her ass cheeks, stroking the folds of what was certainly a virgin asshole. I licked my pinky and slid the smallest finger just inside her bung. Her sphincters clenched tightly around my digit. I pressed further inside. It was hot in there and oddly moist.

Keith was now on the other side of the bench getting lip service on his cock. I unzipped my poly slacks and set my dick between her pert cheeks. "Sir?" she said, pausing in her movements. "Could you wear a rubber?"

"Don't worry, honey," I assured her. "I'm not going to come inside you."

I hit the center of her twat's target with the head of my cock. She was tighter than a tourniquet as her pussy muscles squeezed the bulging veins of my shaft. With her ass in the air and her head only a few feet from the ground, I maintained the perfect leverage to sink all five inches inside her. Thank God my herpes had finally cleared up! Keith continued stroking his dick. His red neck turned purple as he choked a load from his dick that splashed her shoulder and slid down her flexing arm. She was a hot, little biscuit, at one point yelling, "Jesus Christ!" and spraying my cock with a warm rush of pussy juice. Gripping her hips with white knuckles, I slammed her college cooze with all my force. Finally, a course I could pass!

Poor Keith had all but shriveled up, having come and gone on to witness a real man's porking of his sweetheart's poon. I felt like hawking a gob of spit in his direction, but I was about to come. I spread apart her butt cheeks until her asshole opened a good quarter-inch, pulled my prick from her puss and aimed at her tiny shitter. The wind tickled my peen, but I wanted to hold the load as long as I could. I looked to Keith, who looked like the kid who's always picked last for a softball team. I smiled and splattered her light-brown butthole with my goopy semen. The first spurt disappeared down her shit drain, but the rest overflowed, dribbled down her crack and covered the opening of her pussy.

I picked up her T-shirt and wiped the clinging sperm from my dick head. "Now, get moving, and we'll keep this between us," I said, zipping my slacks. That was the only time that scam worked. In fact, I was arrested a week later and am now six months into a five-year probation. You live, you learn.

Bogus Rehabs Screw Sex Freaks Crooked Medicos Clean Up

by Rene Denfeld

Restrictive attitudes in the name of so-called morality increasingly take the fun out of fucking. Through good, old-fashioned homespun knowledge, hearsay, scientific facts and outright lies, this series strives to spread the word that rubbing uglies is a beautiful experience.

ILLUSTRATION BY PABLO

Twenty-seven-year old Lisa, a cosmetician from Yakima, Washington, scoots her chair a tad closer to the table. She is one of a half-dozen people enjoying coffee and dessert after a casual dinner at an upscale restaurant—just Lisa and a few longtime friends, nothing romantic. Still, at the moment, Lisa has a soft, far-away expression in her eyes.

Unnoticed by anyone else at the table, her right hand has dropped into her lap. While her left hand remains on top of the table, toying with the handle of her coffee cup, Lisa's right hand burrows under her skirt, between the skin of her belly and the silk of her panties. The group discusses the latest movies; Lisa diddles herself. When, after a minute or so, she gasps, all eyes turn in her direction. "It was nothing," she hurriedly explains, embarrassed. "I guess I wanted to yawn, but it didn't work out."

Talk returns to normal, but Lisa is freaked. She's surreptitiously jacked herself in public a few times before, but she's never come this close to being busted. Do I have a problem? she wonders. Or am I just having fun?

"Hi. My name is Lisa," the slender, young woman with shoulder-length blond hair confesses softly, "and I'm a sex addict." Sitting in fold-up metal chairs in a church room filled with cigarette smoke and the sharp smell of bad coffee, a group of men and women listen attentively. Lisa smiles nervously, smooths her skirt over her hips and continues. "I enjoyed my sexual behavior as long as I could," she admits, "but then I was so out of control I got worried. It seemed like I was masturbating every day. For a long time, I rationalized that it was normal to do this, but now, thanks to counseling, I realize I am a sex addict."

At the back of the room, Lisa's sex-abuse counselor nods encouragement. The bill for her past week's therapy sessions is in the mail.

According to statistics from the National Association on Sexual Addiction Problems, 10% of American adults are addicted to sex and require clinical treatment. Some of these so-called sex addicts suffer problems they can't beat without professional help, but many more simply possess healthy, albeit larger-than-average, appetites for sex, who find themselves unwitting victims of a faction of the mental-health industry willing to label almost any behavior an addiction in order to bilk insurance companies out of millions of dollars per annum.

Most insurance companies don't consider treatment for sexual addiction to be a legitimate medical claim. Sex-addict clinicians have found a way around that stumbling block: They simply peg a patient with a serious diagnosis, such as clinical depression, which insurance will cover. The clinics are happy because they're making a bundle; the patients are happy, because they're receiving the help they've been convinced they need; and the insurance companies don't know what hit 'em.

How easy is it to qualify as a sex addict, according to the Sex Addicts Anonymous hotline? Answering yes more times than no to the questions in this brief SAA hotline quiz is all it takes:

- 1.) Do you use sex to escape from worries or troubles?
- 2.) Have you ever tried to stop doing what you believed was wrong in your sexual behavior?
- 3.) Do you find it difficult to relate to other people because of thoughts or fantasies about being sexual with them?
- 4.) Have you ever tried to limit or control your sexual behavior?
- 5.) Do you frequently want to get away from a sex partner after having sexual experiences?

Judging by this test, any man who's ever become tongue-tied in the presence of an attractive woman at a party because he tried but couldn't tear his eyes away from her breasts, and every woman who's had a one-night stand she's regretted in the morning, has a sex-addiction problem—and Sex Addicts Anonymous recommends that she or he seek out a 12-step SAA program.

The road to sex-abuse recovery doesn't stop at a cost-free 12-step group, however. One of the several inpatient treatment facilities for sexual addiction is Arizona's premier sex-recovery clinic, Cottonwood de Tucson, where sex addicts are shown the error of their ways in a home away from home during a recommended 35-day stay.

One of the first things a sex addict is urged to do upon entering Cottonwood is to try to connect their inner need to the strength of a "higher power"—and a vibrator doesn't count. After getting in touch with God, patients at the inpatient center are treated to a smorgasbord of counseling sessions, groups and lectures, including seminars entitled "Nurturing the Inner Child" and "Control and Responsibility." The result of all this hard work? Cottonwood promises to help the sexual addict "experience growth," "trust themselves" and "accept risks of intimacy." Cottonwood charges $510 a day for a 30-day stay. Often, it's an insurance company that gets stuck with the $15,000-plus tab.

According to a former counselor at Cottonwood, the facility accepts insurance money for sexual-addiction treatment. Yet the counselor acknowledges that most insurance companies will only accept illnesses that are included in the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders, Third Edition Revised, the premier reference tool used by the mental-health field. Since sex addiction isn't recognized in the DSM III R as a legitimate psychiatric disorder, nearly all insurance companies refuse to pay for treatment.

The counselor suggests that patients are usually diagnosed with depression or suicidal ideation, rationalizing this apparent misdiagnosis by explaining that sex addicts automatically suffer from these serious problems. The treatment center's literature makes this point clear: "Sexual addiction...leads to clinical depression and suicide ideation." Just how a "dependence" on sex makes people want to kill themselves, the literature doesn't explain.

In fact, Cottonwood's list of symptoms for sex addiction is a far cry from the DSM III R's criteria for clinical depression. The psychiatric manual lists problems such as chronic insomnia, fatigue and severe weight loss as symptoms of clinical depression. But Cottonwood's "therapist checklist" for sexual addiction includes compulsive masturbation, multiple sexual relationships, sexual preoccupation and an inability to have relationships without sex. All that's required to sign in to the superexpensive rehab is the presence of just one of these ambiguous symptoms. Admitting to multiple sexual relationships alone, for instance, qualifies, according to the in-house checklist, a "potential patient."

Having several lovers may not be recognized by the American Psychiatric Association as a mental problem, but the counselors at Cottonwood consider such behavior dangerous, and admonish patients to "make a commitment to sexual sobriety," which includes quitting masturbation, avoiding pornography and not dressing sexually.

Douglas Sharp, a counselor in private practice in Portland, Oregon, explains why pornography is off-limits to sex addicts. "Soft porn, hard porn, prostitutes...[sex addicts] just keep escalating up to the taboo stuff—exposure and pedophilia," he says. "They can't satiate this addiction. It just wants more and more."

Sharp has a question for those wondering if they are sex addicts: "Do you feel guilty for masturbating?" In fact, Sharp says he tells his clients that they can never touch themselves again. "That's playing with fire, to say the least," he says. "I don't ever recommend...that people go back to masturbating, because it's a drug, and they've used it as a drug."

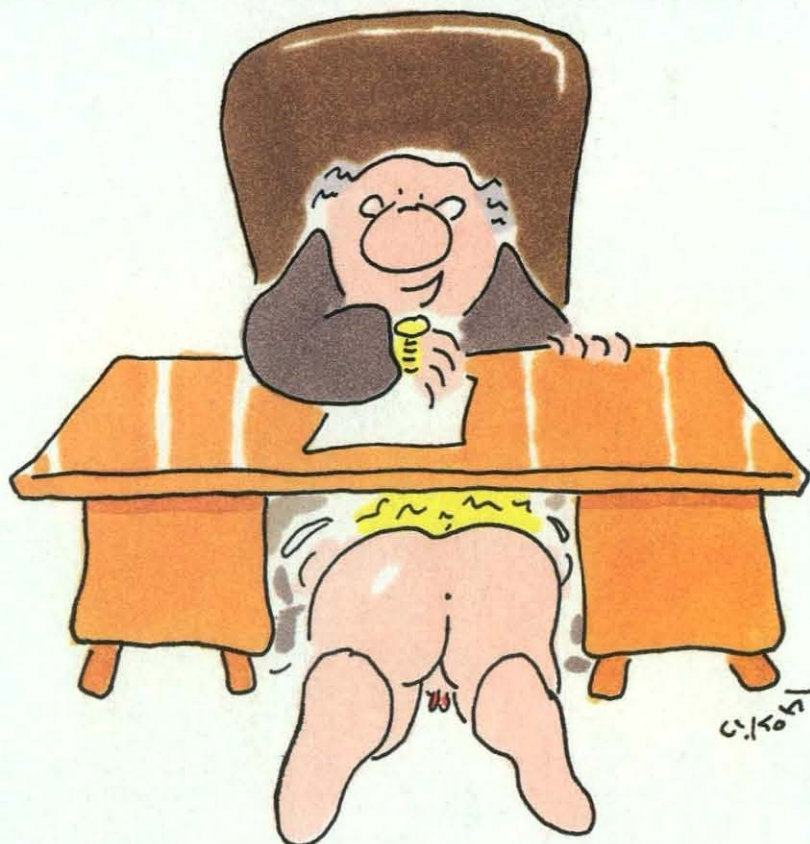

All of this sounds familiar to anyone who's been exposed to the recovery movement, whose guru, author Melody Beattie, in her book Codependent No More, sought to define almost every aspect of human behavior as "dysfunctional," laying the blame for adult problems on early childhood and parenting. Such omnipresent dysfunctional behaviors soon become addictions. According to recovery junkies, nearly every adult American is addicted to something, be it alcohol, drugs, living with people addicted to alcohol or drugs, food, gambling or sex....

The beauty of the burgeoning industry of the recovery movement is how easy it is to label people sick. All that's needed is to convince people that they need help—not a difficult thing to do. "Even a healthy guilt [makes people believe they've done] something wrong," admits Sharp.

Apart from the money scammed from insurance companies (thereby raising everybody's rates), the sex-addiction movement poses problems. Patients are diagnosed with serious disorders to qualify for insurance coverage—but a record of clinical depression can come back to haunt a person later in life, especially when applying for jobs in a competitive economy. Potentially dangerous sex offenders could be declared cured after they acknowledge their "inner child" and hypocritically breeze through a 12-step program, only to return to society as great a threat as before.

In Lisa's case, she might be better off laying in a supply of batteries for her vibrator, plugging an X-rated video into the VCR and masturbating herself into semiconsciousness. It would certainly be cheaper than trying to cure her "addiction." And it could, in fact, be healthier. ☹

"Goodness, Miss Hanley. We ran right into lunch hour. That means you can swallow!"

SWING LOW

The object of Car Wash is for each person on the end of the line to roll across all the naked bodies, until everyone has had a ride on the conveyor belt of flesh.

The annual Lifestyles convention is a weekend-long celebration of alternative sexuality, encouraging participants to meet and mingle. In other words, it's a spouse-swapping swingers get-together—the biggest regular mixer, in fact, in the United States.

Erstwhile sleazemonger and full time optician, portly, jovial, slimy-but-indelibly-middle-class HUSTLER crony Cheezboy is fairly typical of denizens of the swing scene, except for one crucial difference: While he boasts a lust for everything lewd, deep down he's firmly mired in the pigheaded judgmentalism of an Idaho tourist in Gomorrah. In this respect, Cheezboy embodies the intolerant, prurient mind set that the swingers community continually faces in mainstream America. Far from the depraved, maniacally promiscuous perverts he expected to find at the singles shindig, however, Cheezboy discovered the typical Lifestyles conventioners to be married, fortyish, professional tradespersons sharing only a supercharged libido with the pocket-pool hustler and spread-legged bar slut. Lifestyles participants are people who happen to like having sex—a lot of it—without guilt. Which, incidentally, is Cheezboy's chief problem: guilt—the white boy's burden. Forthwith is the carrot-topped conniver's unwitting firsthand account of Lifestyles, where he discovered, if not consciously, that swinging is much more than just another word for sleaze.

At so-called respectable swinging functions like the Lifestyles convention, held this past year at the Los Angeles Airport Hilton Hotel, the wanna-be wielder of wood best satisfies gang-smut etiquette by escorting his own carnal offering to the proceedings. Enter Loni, my real-life squeeze, who doesn't want to attend any kind of swingers' convention, so-called respectable or not. One needs to look beyond her boyfriend to discover Loni has limits to what she will and won't do. No hideous, pathetic, slave-to-his-dick swinger dude she might meet can possibly disgust her more than yours truly. She comes along for the ride, so to speak. What a gal!

At the Lifestyles convention's inaugural event—the Evening of Caressive Intimacy, with Dr. Sunny Summers—lust participants enact what they call the “Car Wash.” Hundreds of people stand shoulder to shoulder, naked, in a pair of lines, facing each other. The object of Car Wash is for each person on the end of the line to roll across all the naked bodies, until everyone has had a ride on the conveyor belt of flesh, thoroughly cleansing themselves of any sense of shame.

Good luck. I don't want to sound like an unbeliever or anything, but there are some kinds of shame I can never rub away. Loni decides not to participate. She doesn't want to see me naked, although, truth to tell, I think I finally found a crowd I wouldn't stand out in. Loni and I study these people in their saggy birthday suits, trapped, as it were, in a sea of flab, afraid to move. Bellies are supposed to sag, but asses? Of course, people who look like this are very nice people, under the flab. I can say that from personal experience.

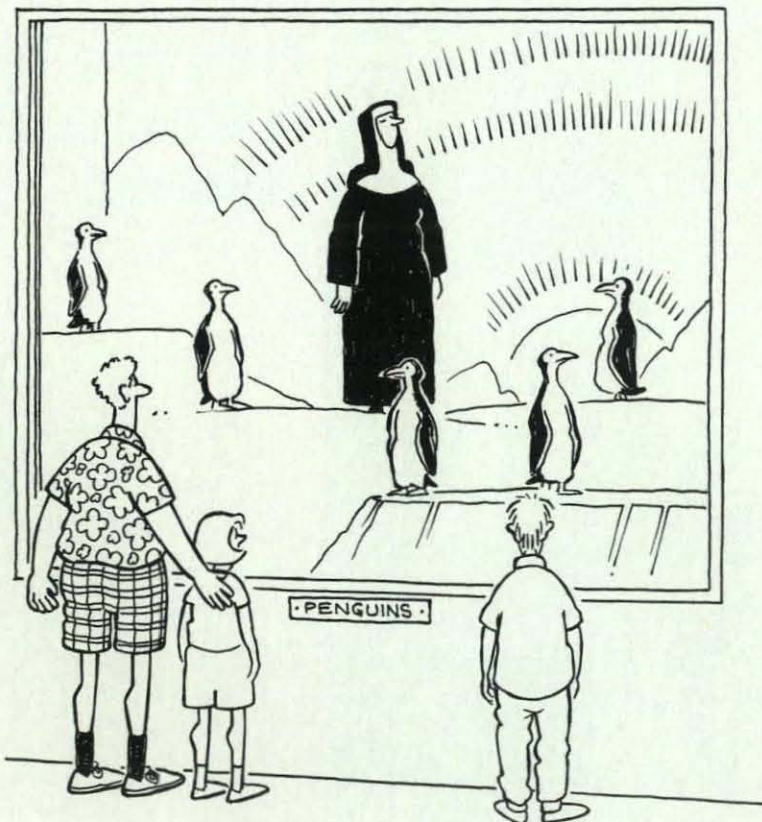

In 1973, Dr. Robert McGinley and his wife launched the first Lifestyles convention on a private ranch in Riverside, California. The inaugural event drew 125 sexual adventurers, including the ten scheduled speakers.

“We lost one year in the '70s, because the hotel we had scheduled went bankrupt. But this next one [Lifestyles '93] will be our twentieth anniversary,” says Dr. McGinley, with no sense of shame.

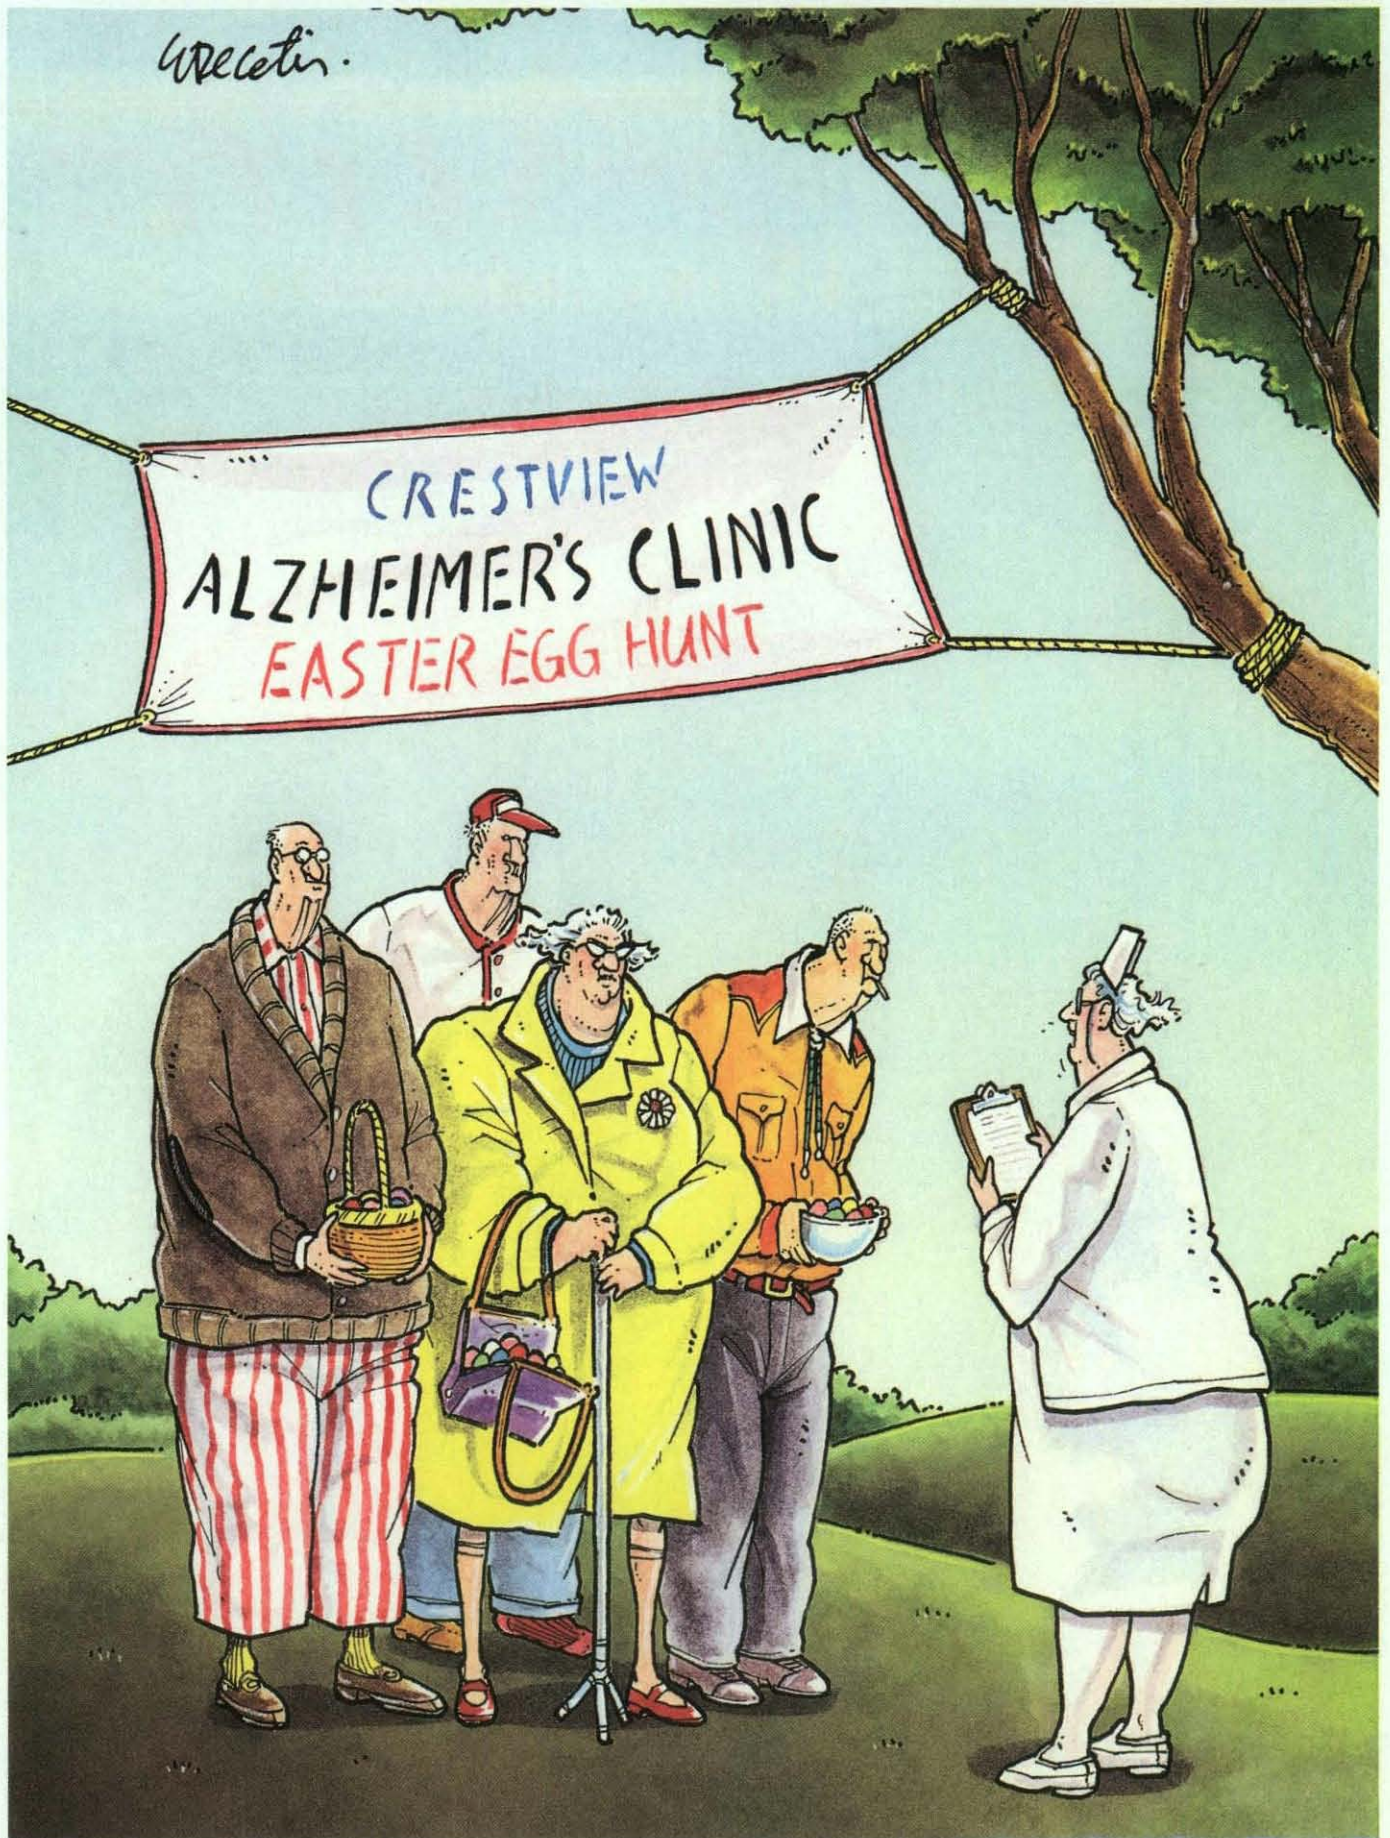

“The participation has increased pretty much every year. From a swinging standpoint, Lifestyles is the largest convention in the world. Our attendance this year was down from our peak—only about 2,200. The most we've ever had was approximately 3,500 at the Hacienda in Las Vegas. We're seeing more of an interest [among our participants] in personal freedom. There are people who go to the convention just to have fun, and there's nothing wrong with that. But we also see people who want to meet kindred spirits, and their talk has to do with personal freedom, anti-government interference in personal lives. The other change has been a shift toward couples. Ninety-four percent of our preregistrants this past convention registered as a couple. Only 6% registered as single—almost equal [numbers of] men and women. Lifestyles has become very much a couples-oriented convention.”

Lifestyles instructor Dr. Summers has the whole, frigging Hilton convention room jumping with horny people doing strange stuff. Loni surprises me. She strips down to a skimpy bathing suit. Dr. Summers aims to teach the use of massage and touching to heighten intimacy. Either it works, or peer pressure does, because soon enough I myself am doffed raw, and even though I'm surrounded by a rabid rabble of swingers whom I suspect are all staring at my thumb-sized penis, after a couple of minutes of erotic massage, I'm hard as a rock.

Things go smoothly till it's time for the breast-rubbing segment. Loni seems to be getting into it, but then, finding herself unexpectedly aroused in a room full of sex maniacs, she bursts into tears.

* * *

"We want to give people permission to [do what they want]," comforts Dr. McGinley, much too late for Loni's benefit. "If people don't live life to the fullest, nobody else can do it for them." Dr. McGinley relates the story of a woman he met at a past convention who hadn't gone without a bra her whole life, but appeared at a Lifestyles get-together with just a few beads dangling across her nipples! "Our motto is taken from the words of Jack London: 'The proper function of mankind is to live, not to exist.' We're interested in helping people to live their lives, not just exist."

My aims, however, are no more lofty than attempting to calm down my lovely Loni enough to bang her. Actually, she settles quickly, but when the Naked Bumper-Car People segment comes up, I'm ready to call it quits too. We hurry back to our room, where I try to put my firmy to use on my stressed-out babe. Bad move. Loni flips like a burger and splits.

According to porn vixen Ona Zee's husband, Frank, the men bring the women to Lifestyles, but once they get into it, it's the women who bring the men back for deeper involvement in the swinging lifestyle. I leave word at the hotel switchboard to expect Loni's call when she comes back begging to join the fun.

Most of the Lifestyles participants are financially well-off. They practically have to be; the weekend cost me over $500. So many of the swingers are beautiful people that Lifestyles made my last foray into the swinging mire for HUSTLER Magazine (Thad's Sin Shack; Doin' That Sleazy Swing Thing—An Illicit Expedition With Cheezboy, January '91) look ugly enough to frighten Stephen King. To this day, I suffer from fear of retribution at the hands of Thad, proprietor of the eponymous San Diego swingles' club. My article dogged his sticky world of singles-oriented swinging like a fly-sized pter on a speck of dried shit. Of course, I'm so whitebread, my stomach can't help but turn at the smell of undiluted raunch. My wanna-be dickbrain may crave Russ Meyer, but my heart belongs to Leave It to Beaver.

Even the official representative of the management of the Hilton Hotel at the Los Angeles International Airport public-relations office is more supportive of the Lifestyles swingers scene than I am: "In terms of the group itself and the hotel's response to hosting a group like that, both Hilton corporate and our hotel allow and permit any type of group that is willing to meet in the hotel as long as their conduct doesn't infringe upon anybody else and it is acceptable to us," states the Hilton rep. "There were no problems with [the Lifestyles conventioners]; they were fine." The rep even suggested that the Lifestyles convention would be welcome to return to the Hilton in the future.

"We are anticipating not less than 3,500 people at Lifestyles '93, and it will be the first convention we've done that will be [held on] a weekday," Dr. McGinley announces proudly. "People make a week's vacation out of it. The weekday convention also helps with the rates. We are very conscious of the price of the convention. Unlike most conventions, people pay for Lifestyles out of their own pockets."

EXT. HILTON—POOLSIDE

Cheezboy chats up a swinging couple. The woman, a statuesque brunette, is wearing a stylish bikini, showing no visible tan line. The man wears khaki shorts, a sun visor and expensive shades.

Cheez: "Ma'am, you put Donna Reed to shame!"

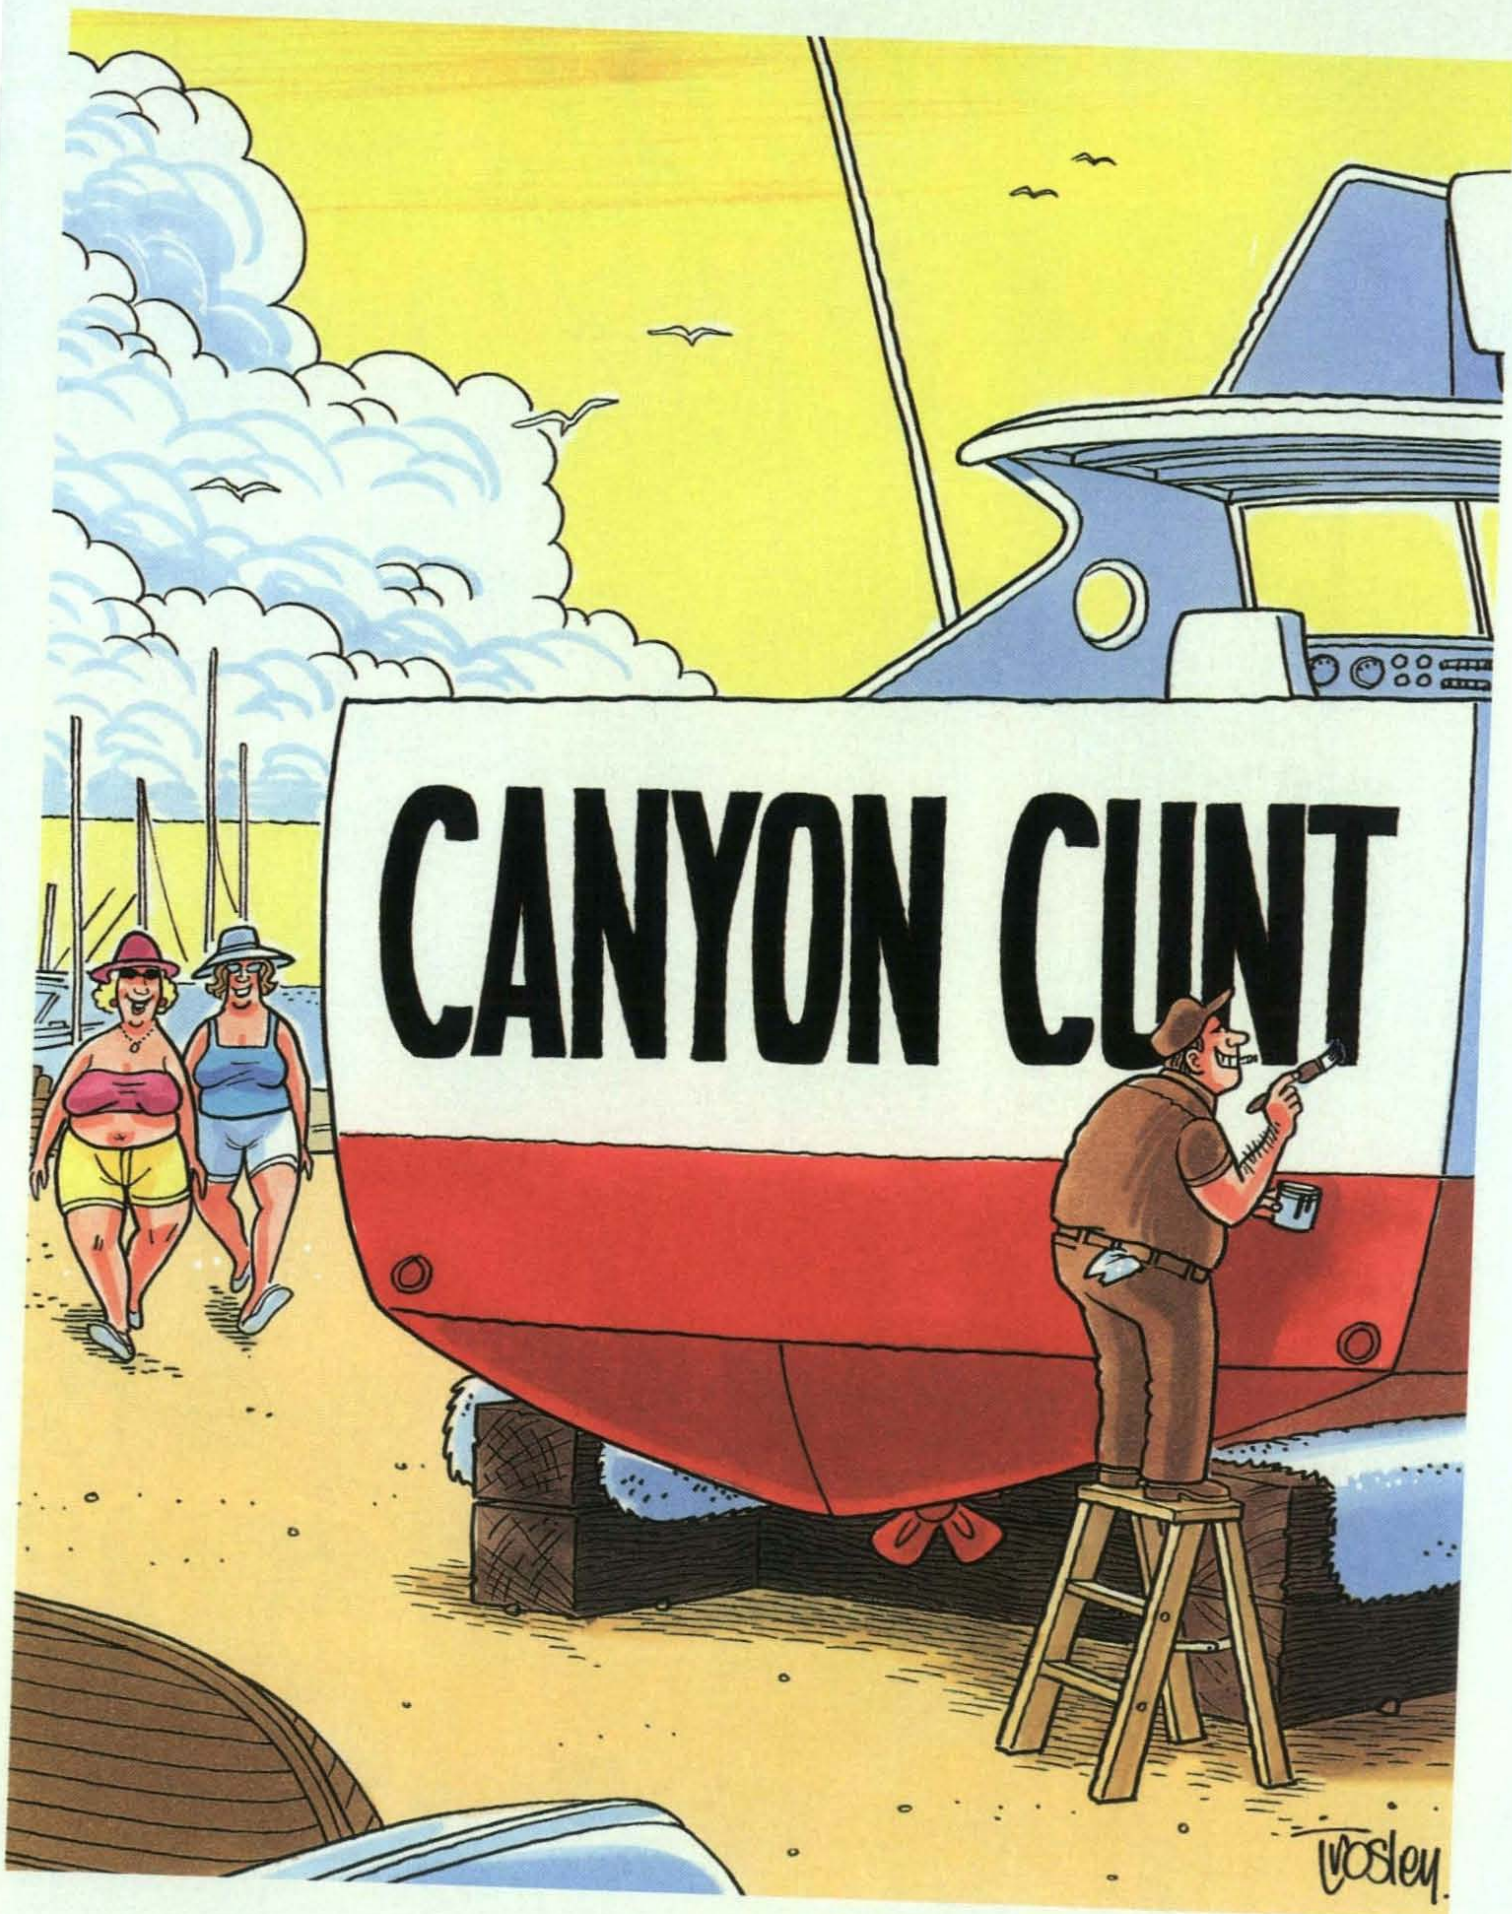

She: "Nobody'd believe it if we told them we're swingers."

Cheez: "So. How did you two first get into swinging?"

He: "Both my wife and I, before we met, had either fantasized about multiple partners or found ourselves in situations involving threesomes or foursomes. After our relationship developed to where there was a tremendous amount of mutual confidence and trust, we could share our fantasies. After that, we found ourselves in a situation with two other couples, who were friends. We had a little too much to drink, the doors got closed, and the next thing we knew, we were all naked on the floor. It was a good experience with good friends."

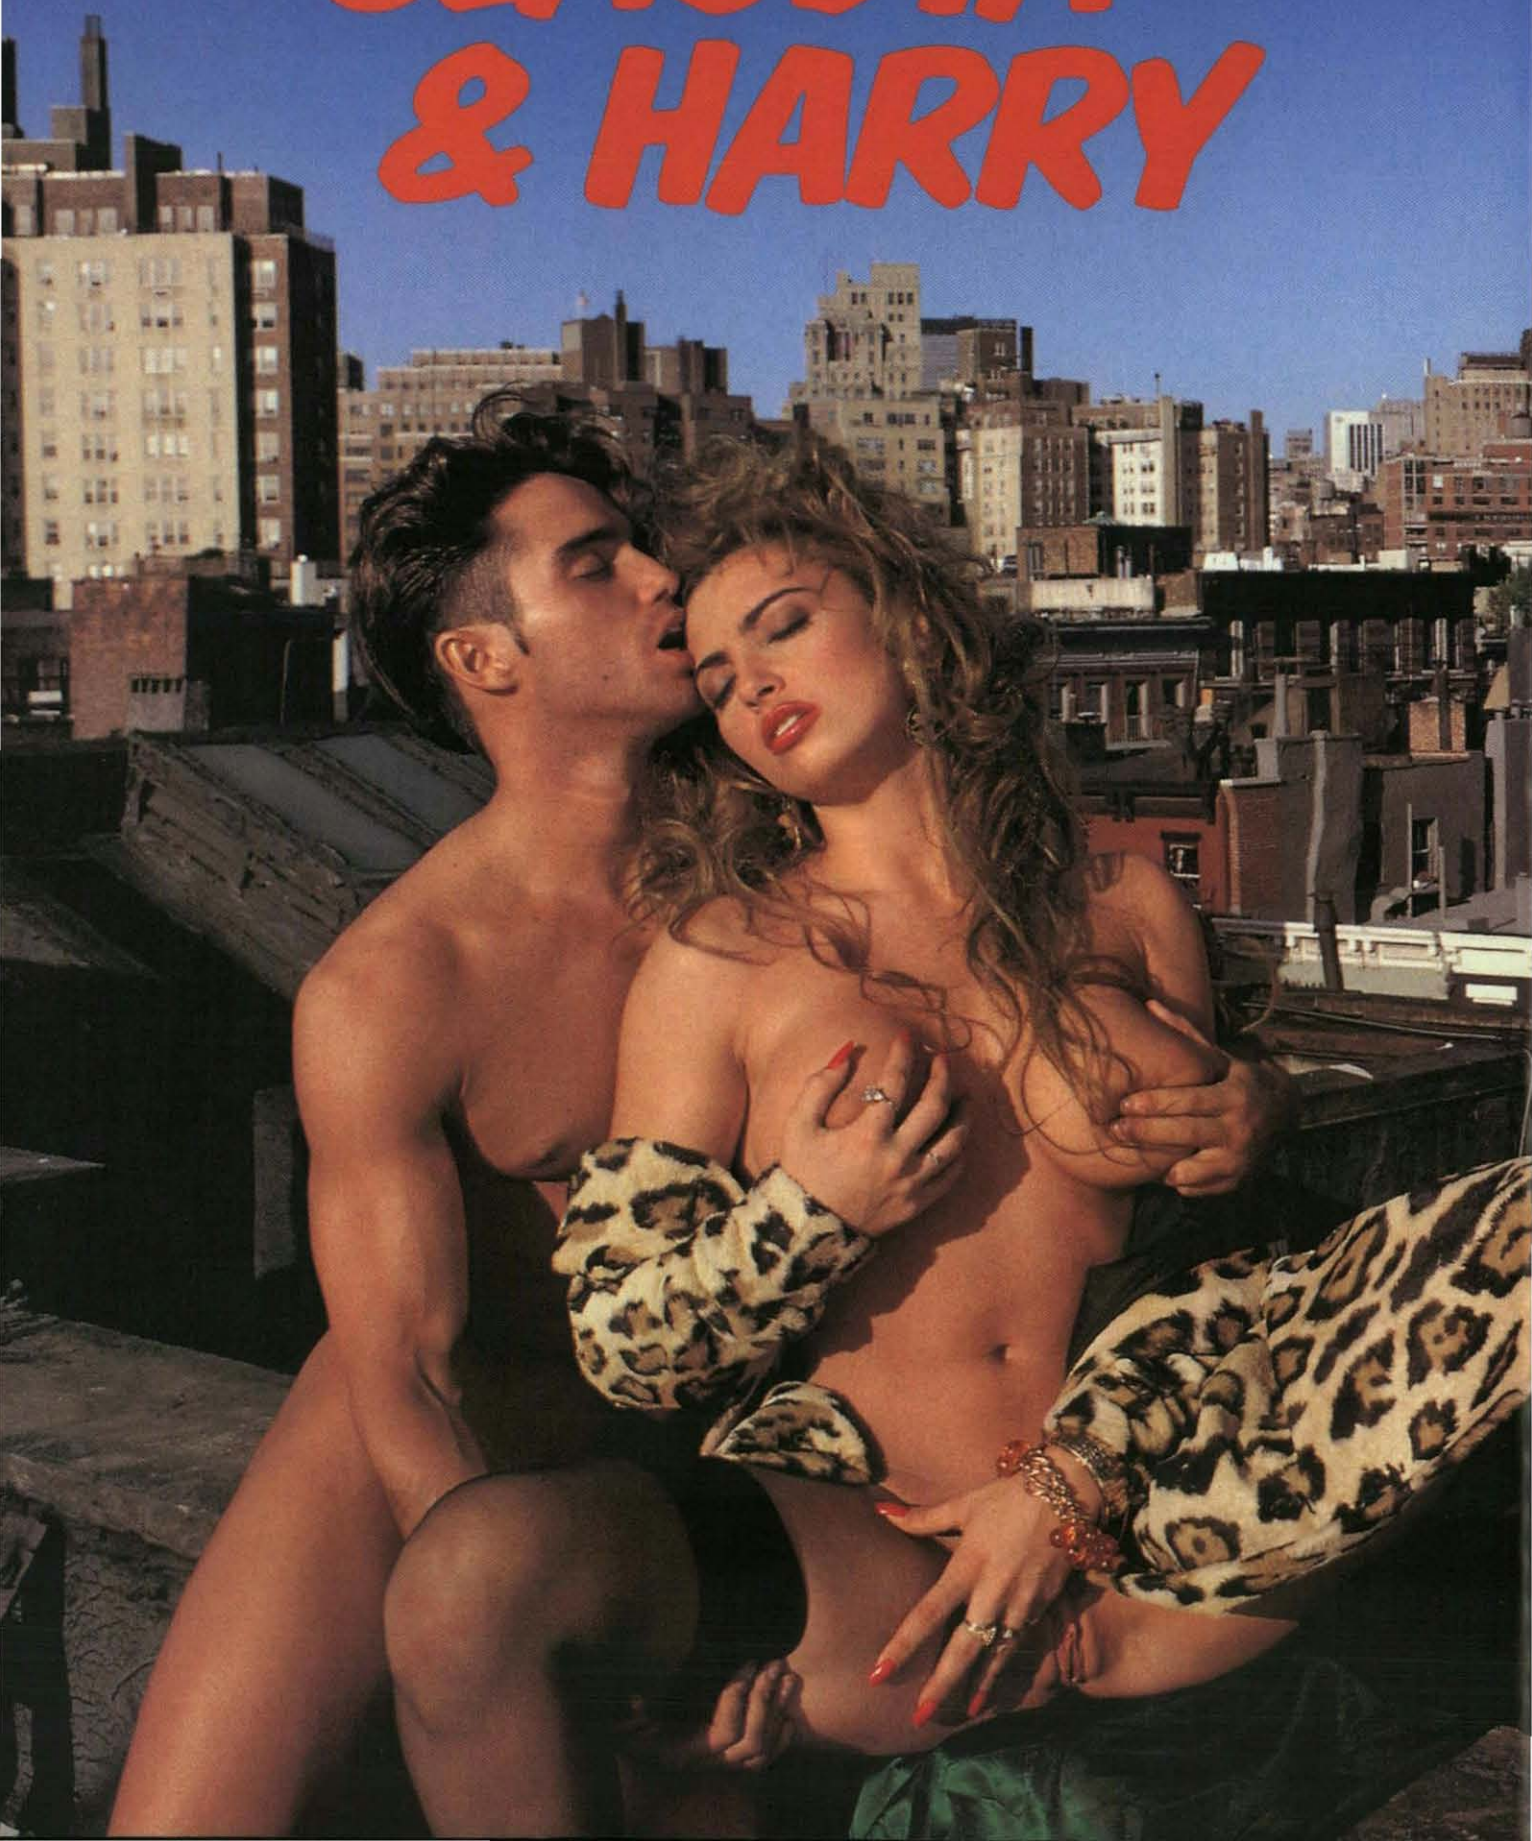

She: "There are a lot of different

Mail worker Harry dropped his bag at the sight of professional lapdancer Claudia. "I got it in my head to show him the way the mail used to be sent in the olden days, by carrier pigeon," giggles the mega-mammed ma'am. "But when we got to the roof, it turned into a whole other kind of special delivery!" Harry's too shy to speak. "He's never done anything like this out in the open," explains Claudia, who's used to being noticed au naturel. "Too much privacy can really stifle a guy's best interests!"

levels [to swinging]. Some people are just into the visual experience."

Sure enough, lurking at edges of the gathering are a scattered bunch of double-knit loners, guys who couldn't lure a woman to the proceedings, but thought, once inside the convention, that maybe they'd get lucky with some drunk's wife. They're like pack rats, trying to scavenge pussy from wherever they smell weakness.

Cheeze: "And do you run into any problems with other couples?"

He: "Sure we do! A couple may misrepresent themselves, and the woman is the guy's ticket to get him to be with other women, but later she admits she won't do anything. That's a problem, because we are doing this as a couple. Everyone has their own ground rules. We want to be involved with people who share a similar commitment to each other."

Cheeze: "Does it bother you at all, to watch your wife ball another man?"

He: (Laughs.) "If it did, I shouldn't be doing this. There were instances in the beginning when I thought she was coming along because it was something I really wanted to do. But she was really turned-on. That's one thing about this lifestyle—you have to have a lot of self-esteem. It's recreational sex with people we like—someone we're clicking with."

She: "Usually it's another, equally committed couple."

Cheeze: "Why do you do swing?"

He: "Lovemaking, after a convention like this, is usually brought to another level because we've had such an exciting time. We talk about it and share what was really neat and who did what, which gives us excitement we can live on for weeks to come! We don't do this on a week-to-week basis, but we've developed friends all over the country. So many men live with guilt. They look at other women with longing, and that hurts their relationships. Their wives [or girlfriends] don't accept it. I believe men need conquest, they need to seek partners—that monogamy is an end to the natural way to behave. If you do it together, it's just an expansion of your relationship."

"There is an onus in a convention of this type for the single man. Part is deserved, part is not," cautions Dr. McGinley. "When we at Lifestyles say 'singles,' no one ever complains about single women. Single women don't tend to be highly aggressive or crash parties, as men do. Some men are very well behaved and can fit in well as a single person, but others are a pain in the ass."

As a single man (being that my precious Loni had hit the road), on my second night at the convention, I decide to have a few people over to my room. West Coast dominatrix Artemis, who considers herself a second-generation whipstress, since her mother was a strapping dom before her, and the famously nailed and nipped X-Goddess Sondra come over. Intoxicated by the man-musk scent of my filthy room, Sondra goes crazy, rubbing herself, rubbing Artemis. I don't know whether to drink, watch or leave. Fact is, I'm embarrassed. I decide to drink.

I see Sondra's crotch clearly when she and Artemis get a cootch-to-cootch thing going. Stretched to the max by the dueling pairs of tits, their patent-leather bustiers squeak like a cheap hotel's mattresses on bargain night. The vaginal banging is making me crazy! I can't cheat on my girl, even in absentia! I drink some more.

I'm on my way out of the Hilton, barely able to walk. For too many days, I've been checking out naked people, and I've ended up not just dumb but dumbfounded. When I leave my room, I can't help but notice that a bunch of people have climbed over the fence to fuck in the Jacuzzi, which was packed at midnight, like dick-and-pussy soup. There are no piles of rubbers or torn-open packets on the deck. At least these muff maniacs are tidy.

The last thing I remember of the night before is wandering drunkenly in the lobby and running across this chick I knew from God knows where. We cruised up to my room, poured drinks. She got on the bed. Inspired by the Lifestyles dream, I said, "Okay, take off all your clothes. Let's swing." So she did—and started to bang herself. I bent over to take off my boots, spun around and was out cold.

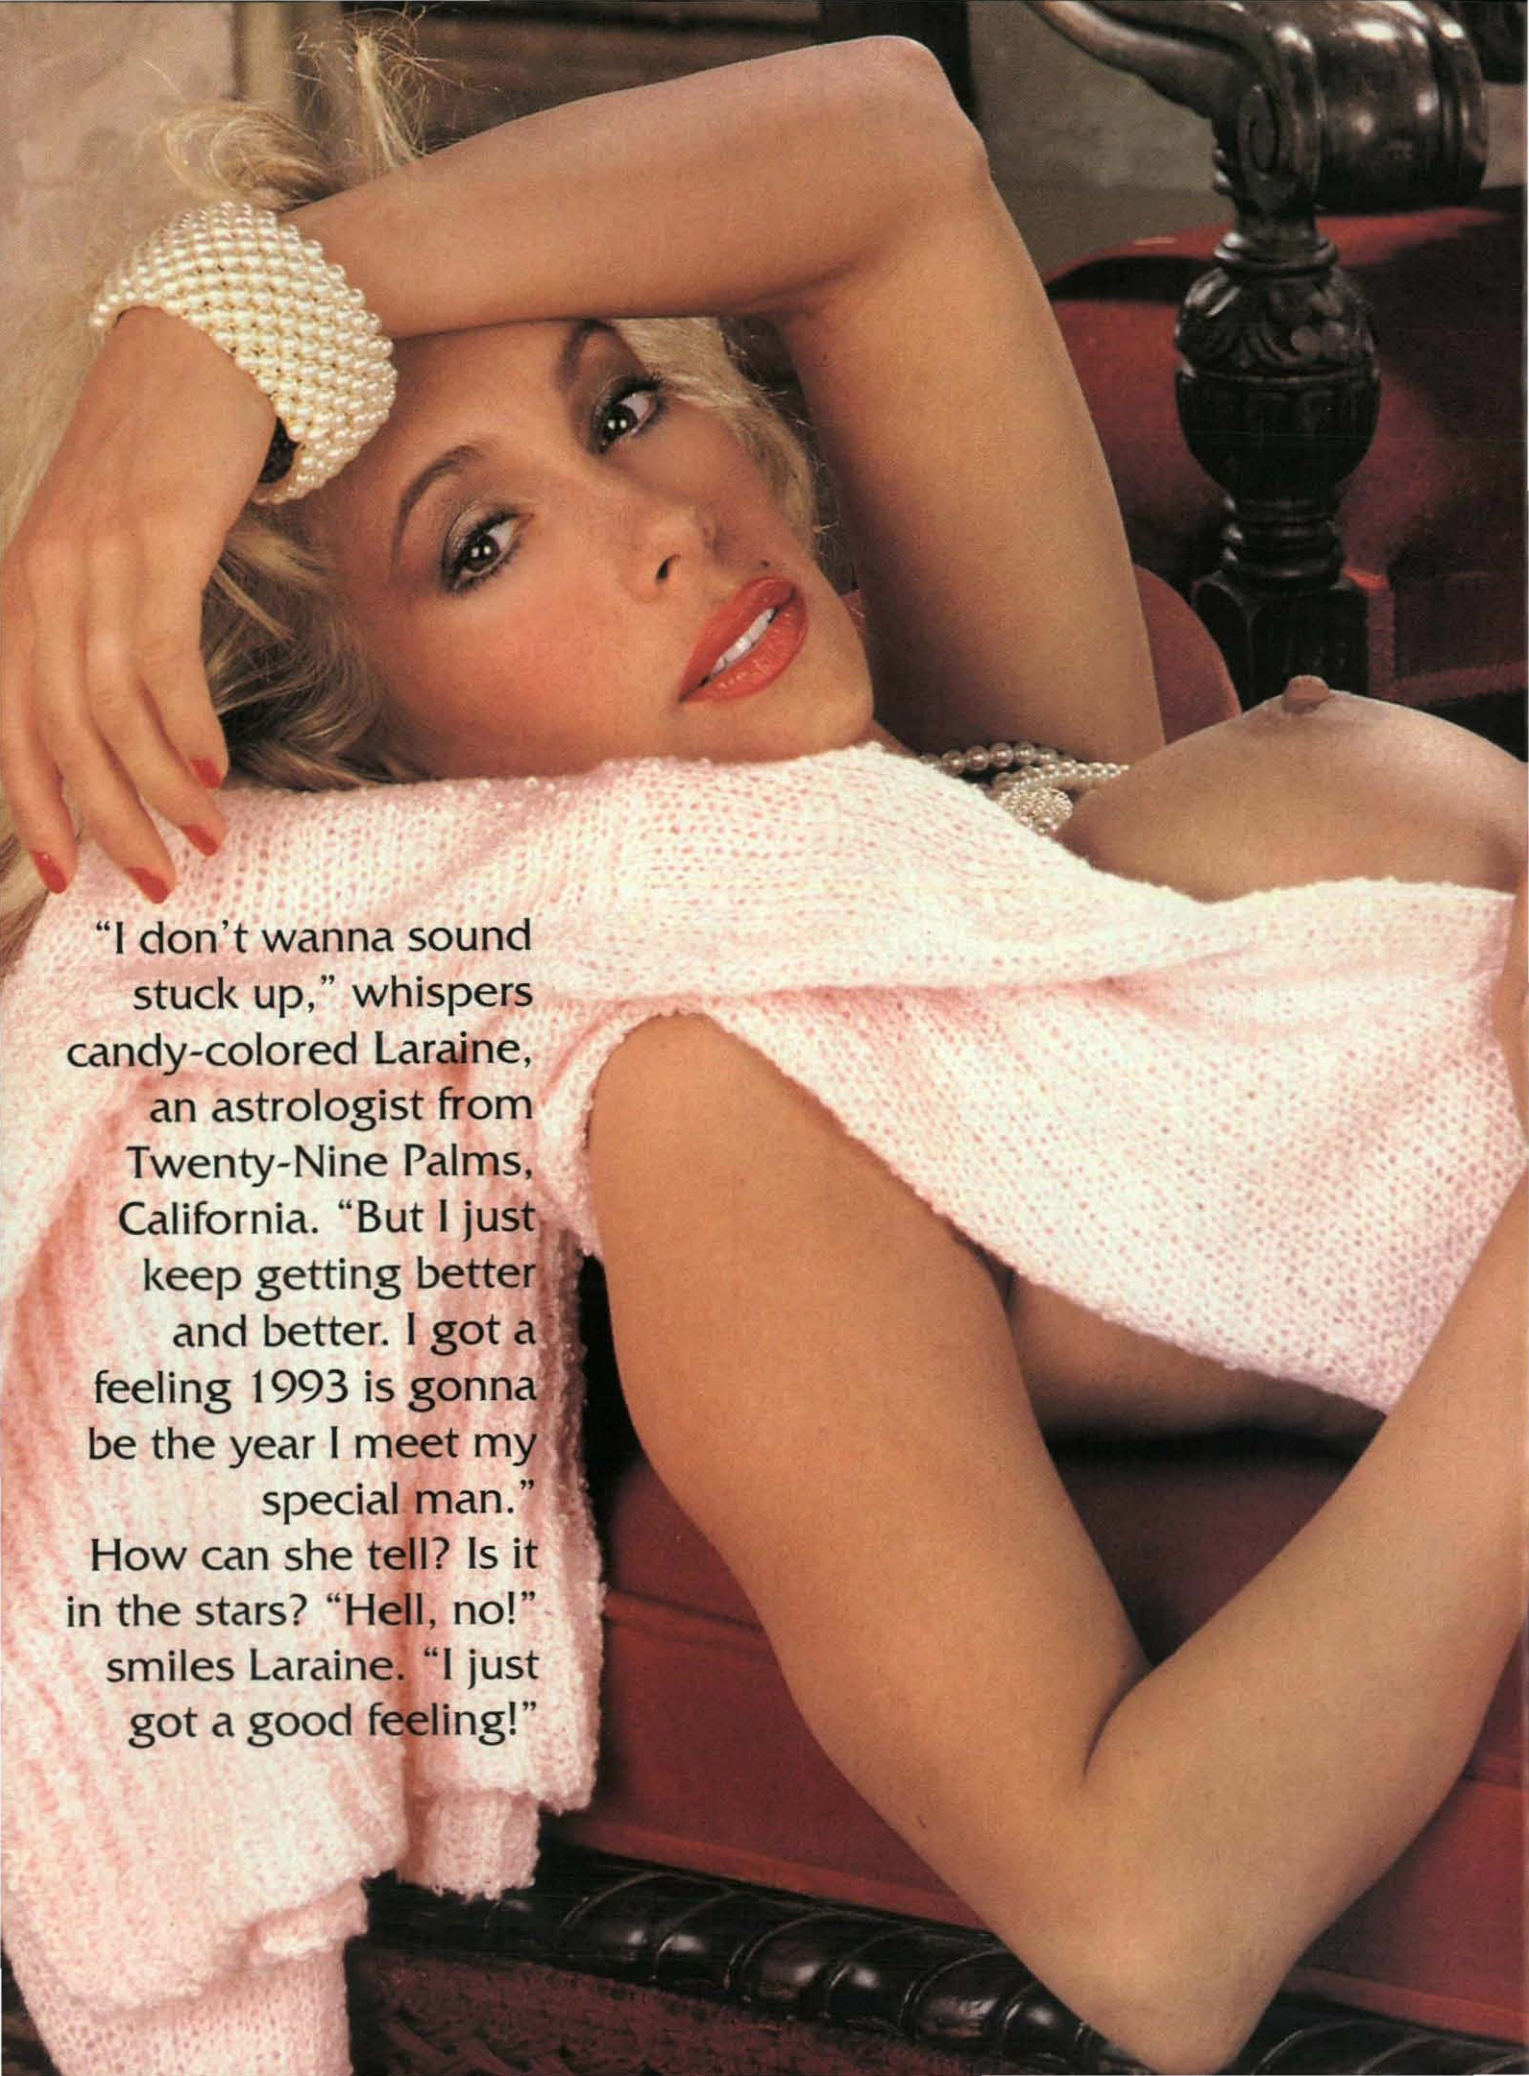

Next thing I knew, the phone was ringing. It was about six a.m. I found pieces of her business card in my mouth. She'd put it there so I'd remember who'd been by. I'd chewed it in my sleep. Coincidentally, it was her on the phone, feeling guilty. She'd called to see if I'd choked to death on the card. I blew her off, in a nice way.

I packed up early and split. Wild man though I am, I think my ultimate nightmare is watching someone else fuck my girl. Which, along with everything else, adds up to one more failure in my life: I'm a rotten swinger. 🍷

"Dad does what he can to make my business successful!"

"I don't wanna sound stuck up," whispers candy-colored Laraine, an astrologist from Twenty-Nine Palms, California. "But I just keep getting better and better. I got a feeling 1993 is gonna be the year I meet my special man." How can she tell? Is it in the stars? "Hell, no!" smiles Laraine. "I just got a good feeling!"

JAM SESSION

"She dropped down, grabbed my tool and started licking it like a popsicle. Then she pursed her lips on the head of my cock and dropped in a flash to deep-throat me."

In her blow-and-tell autobiography, I'm With the Band: Confessions of a Groupie, legendary in-the-buff band booster Pamela Des Barres describes the Los Angeles club scene of the '60s, and how her eager fellatio technique won her musical admirers backstage on the Sunset Strip—the long-running So Cal hot spot for armies of nubile, fresh meat, creaming and reaming the boys in the bands. From humping the Doors' Jim Morrison in a Sunset club loft during a sound check in the legendary band's make-or-break days, Valley girl Des Barres worked her way up and under numerous other rock icons.

Since then, the music on the Strip has gone through a lot of changes, but the sex remains the same. Where Miss Pamela sprawled and balled the one-and-only Jim Morrison, today's eager girlies shed their drawers for the lead singers of Doors revival bands.

L.A.'s Sunset Strip is, has been and promises always to be a prime stretch of West Hollywood nightlife, a mecca for wanna-be rockers letting their hair extensions down while taking a shot at scoring in Billboard. Gold records may never come, but the bands do, thanks to endless lines of willing, young trim banging on the dressing-room doors.

Within walking distance of each other on the neon ribbon of Sunset Boulevard are the renowned music clubs Rainbow, Roxy, Whisky-a-Go-Go and Gazzarri's, all competing for the rock 'n' roll dollars of the pretty, young things who flock to the Strip every night. On any weekend, scores of rock aficionados cruise the Strip-club action in a double-lane, bumper-to-bumper traffic jam. Girls in short-shorts and bra-tops bounce from car to car, looking for somebody who'll get them into a show, buy them some booze, or just give them some petting. Crowds of young girls dolled up like Amsterdam hookers line the sidewalks outside the clubs. For many of them, the Strip's pavement parties are as good as it gets. But with a little luck, and a well-timed rubbing of a doorman's crotch, they might work their way inside.

Richie, a musclebound longhair who's worked as a doorman for all of the rock clubs at one time or another, says that many times women will show off their tits or rub up against him just to get in the back door. When he first began his line of work, Richie obeyed a self-imposed policy of not taking advantage of the ass-grabbing women he dealt with nightly; but it soon became apparent that the girls were just as disappointed that he wouldn't play the tit-for-tat game as they were about not getting in to see whichever glam band was onstage. He loosened up, and eventually garnered the hard-on-earned nickname "Dick Frenzy."

"One time," Richie remembers, "this Japanese girl came to the back door wearing cut-off jeans that should almost be illegal, frayed to the point where her butt hangs out the back. She said she was on the guest list, but I said 'No way.' I thought I could try to just cop a feel off her; so I brought her down a little hallway to the club's storage area. She asked me if the door locked; so I locked it.

"She took her jeans shorts off, and she had one of those black thongs. She turned her back to me, reached back to grab my belt loops, and ground her hard ass into my groin. She pulled her shirt over her head while doing a sexy dance. I was thinking, If this is to turn me on, it's a little late, because I'm about to come! She dropped down, grabbed my tool and started licking it like a popsicle. Then she pursed her lips on the head of my cock and dropped in a flash to deep-throat me. I must have lasted two seconds. She took care of her cover charge right there!"

Rick Bales is with a solid Strip band called Cruella D'Ville. He and his mates have paid their dues in the clubs, and have been recently rewarded with a recording contract, but there are some things about the grueling Sunset club scene that they'll never get tired of. "A lot of the girls on the Strip don't really care about the music that much," says Bales. "They're there for the social aspect. If a band is good-looking, they'll attract a lot of girls."

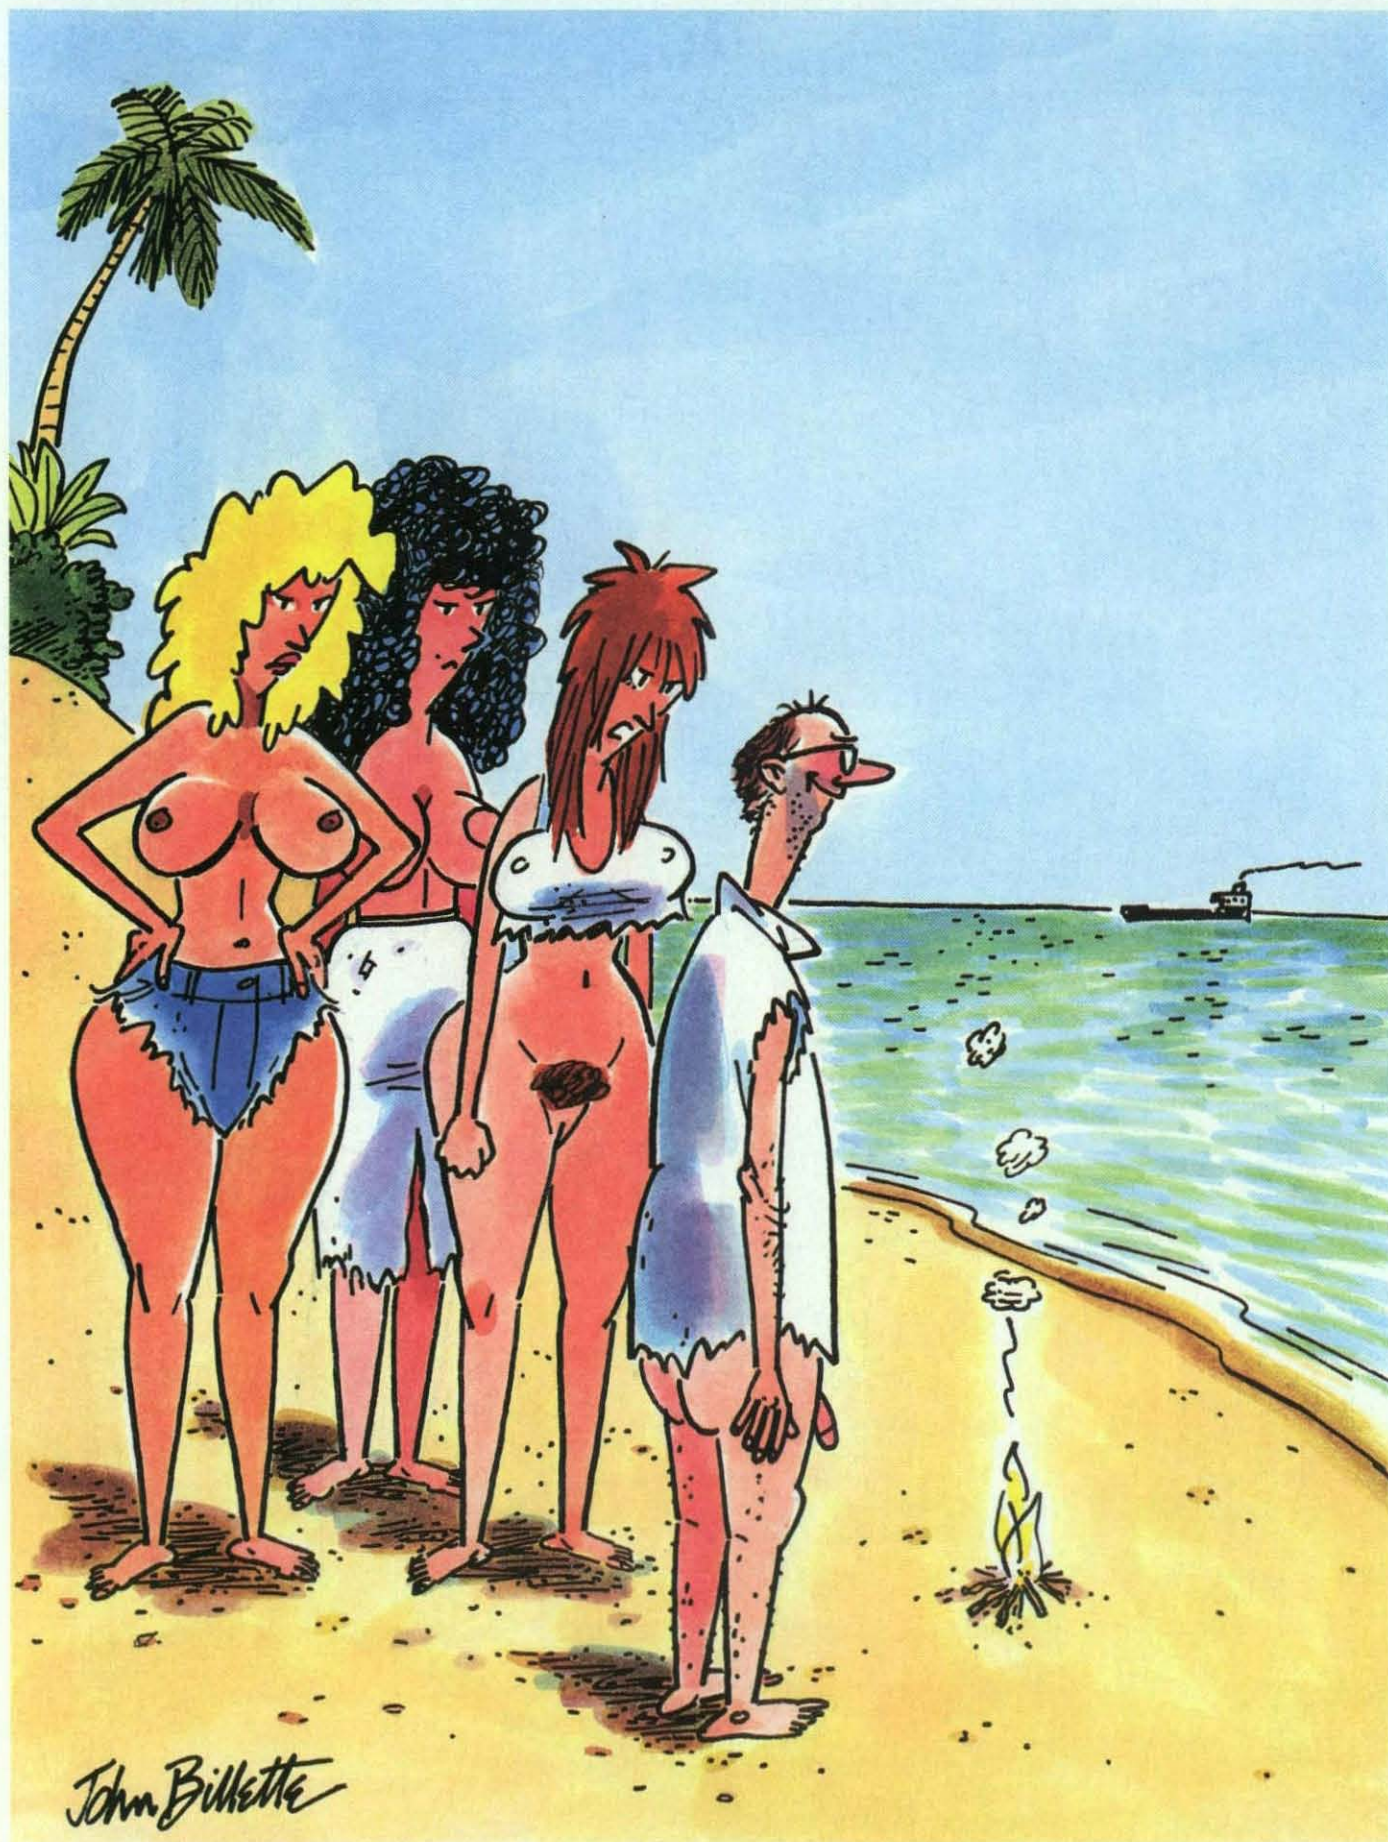

Bales underscores the Strip's most outstanding feature. "I go for women who dress sexy, and there's so much of that on the Strip, it's unbelievable," he moans. "We have a hard-core crowd of about 50 or 60 girls who are at every show. Most of them seem to want to get to us at some point."

Bales admits the veteran club Gazzarri's is his favorite, primarily because there are locks on the dressing-room doors. A girl can come up before or after the show, say hello and stick around without any fear of interruption.

HUSTLER HUMOR

A couple were on their way to get married when they were tragically killed in a car crash. Next thing they knew, they were in heaven, and Saint Peter was welcoming them.

"Gee," said the groom, "we'd always hoped to get here as husband and wife. Is there any way we can get married up here?"

"Why don't you wait in my office," said Saint Peter. "I'll see what I can do."

Three months had passed by the time Saint Peter returned. "Everything has been taken care of—you can get married."

"Uh, we've been thinking it over," said the groom. "If the marriage doesn't work, is there any possibility of getting a divorce?"

"Are you crazy?" bellowed Saint Peter. "Look, it took me three months to find a preacher in heaven—how long do you think it will take to find a lawyer?"

Question: What's the difference between secretaries and wives?

Answer: Secretaries get a little behind at work. Wives get a big one at home.

Riley was enjoying a few at the local pub when a man joined him at the bar, swaying back and forth as he stood. It started to get on Riley's nerves; so finally he turned to the stranger and asked, "What's with all this lurching back and forth? Can't you stand still?"

"I was with the Merchant Marine for 20 years," the fellow explained genially, "and the roll of the sea kind of got in my blood."

"Is that so? Well, I've got 14 kids," sputtered Riley, starting to pump his hips energetically back and forth at the bar, "and I don't stand like this!"

Every night before she went out on a date, the young girl was told by her mother, "Remember, dear, when he tries to touch you in a certain place, a girl's best friends are her legs."

Much to her mother's dismay, however, several weeks later her daughter announced she was pregnant.

"What? How did it happen? Didn't I tell you that your best friends are your legs?"

"You did, Mama," she replied. "But there comes a time when even best friends must part."

Question: What's the difference between the Iraqi Army and Ted Kennedy?

Answer: Ted Kennedy has at least one confirmed kill.

A deaf old lady had a tendency to shout when she went to confession. When the priest asked her to speak more quietly, since everyone in the church could hear her, she shouted, "What did you say?" So he carefully told her that she should write down what she had to say in advance.

At her next confession, she knelt and handed a piece of paper to the priest. He looked at it and said, "What's this? It looks like a grocery list!"

"Mother of God!" said the lady. "I must have left my sins at the A&P!"

A small voice from somewhere out in the audience answered, "The country?"

A businessman walked into a Jewish deli, sat down and ordered a pastrami sandwich. When his meal arrived, he angrily called the owner over and said, "Hey, I ordered this sandwich yesterday, and it had three times as much meat."

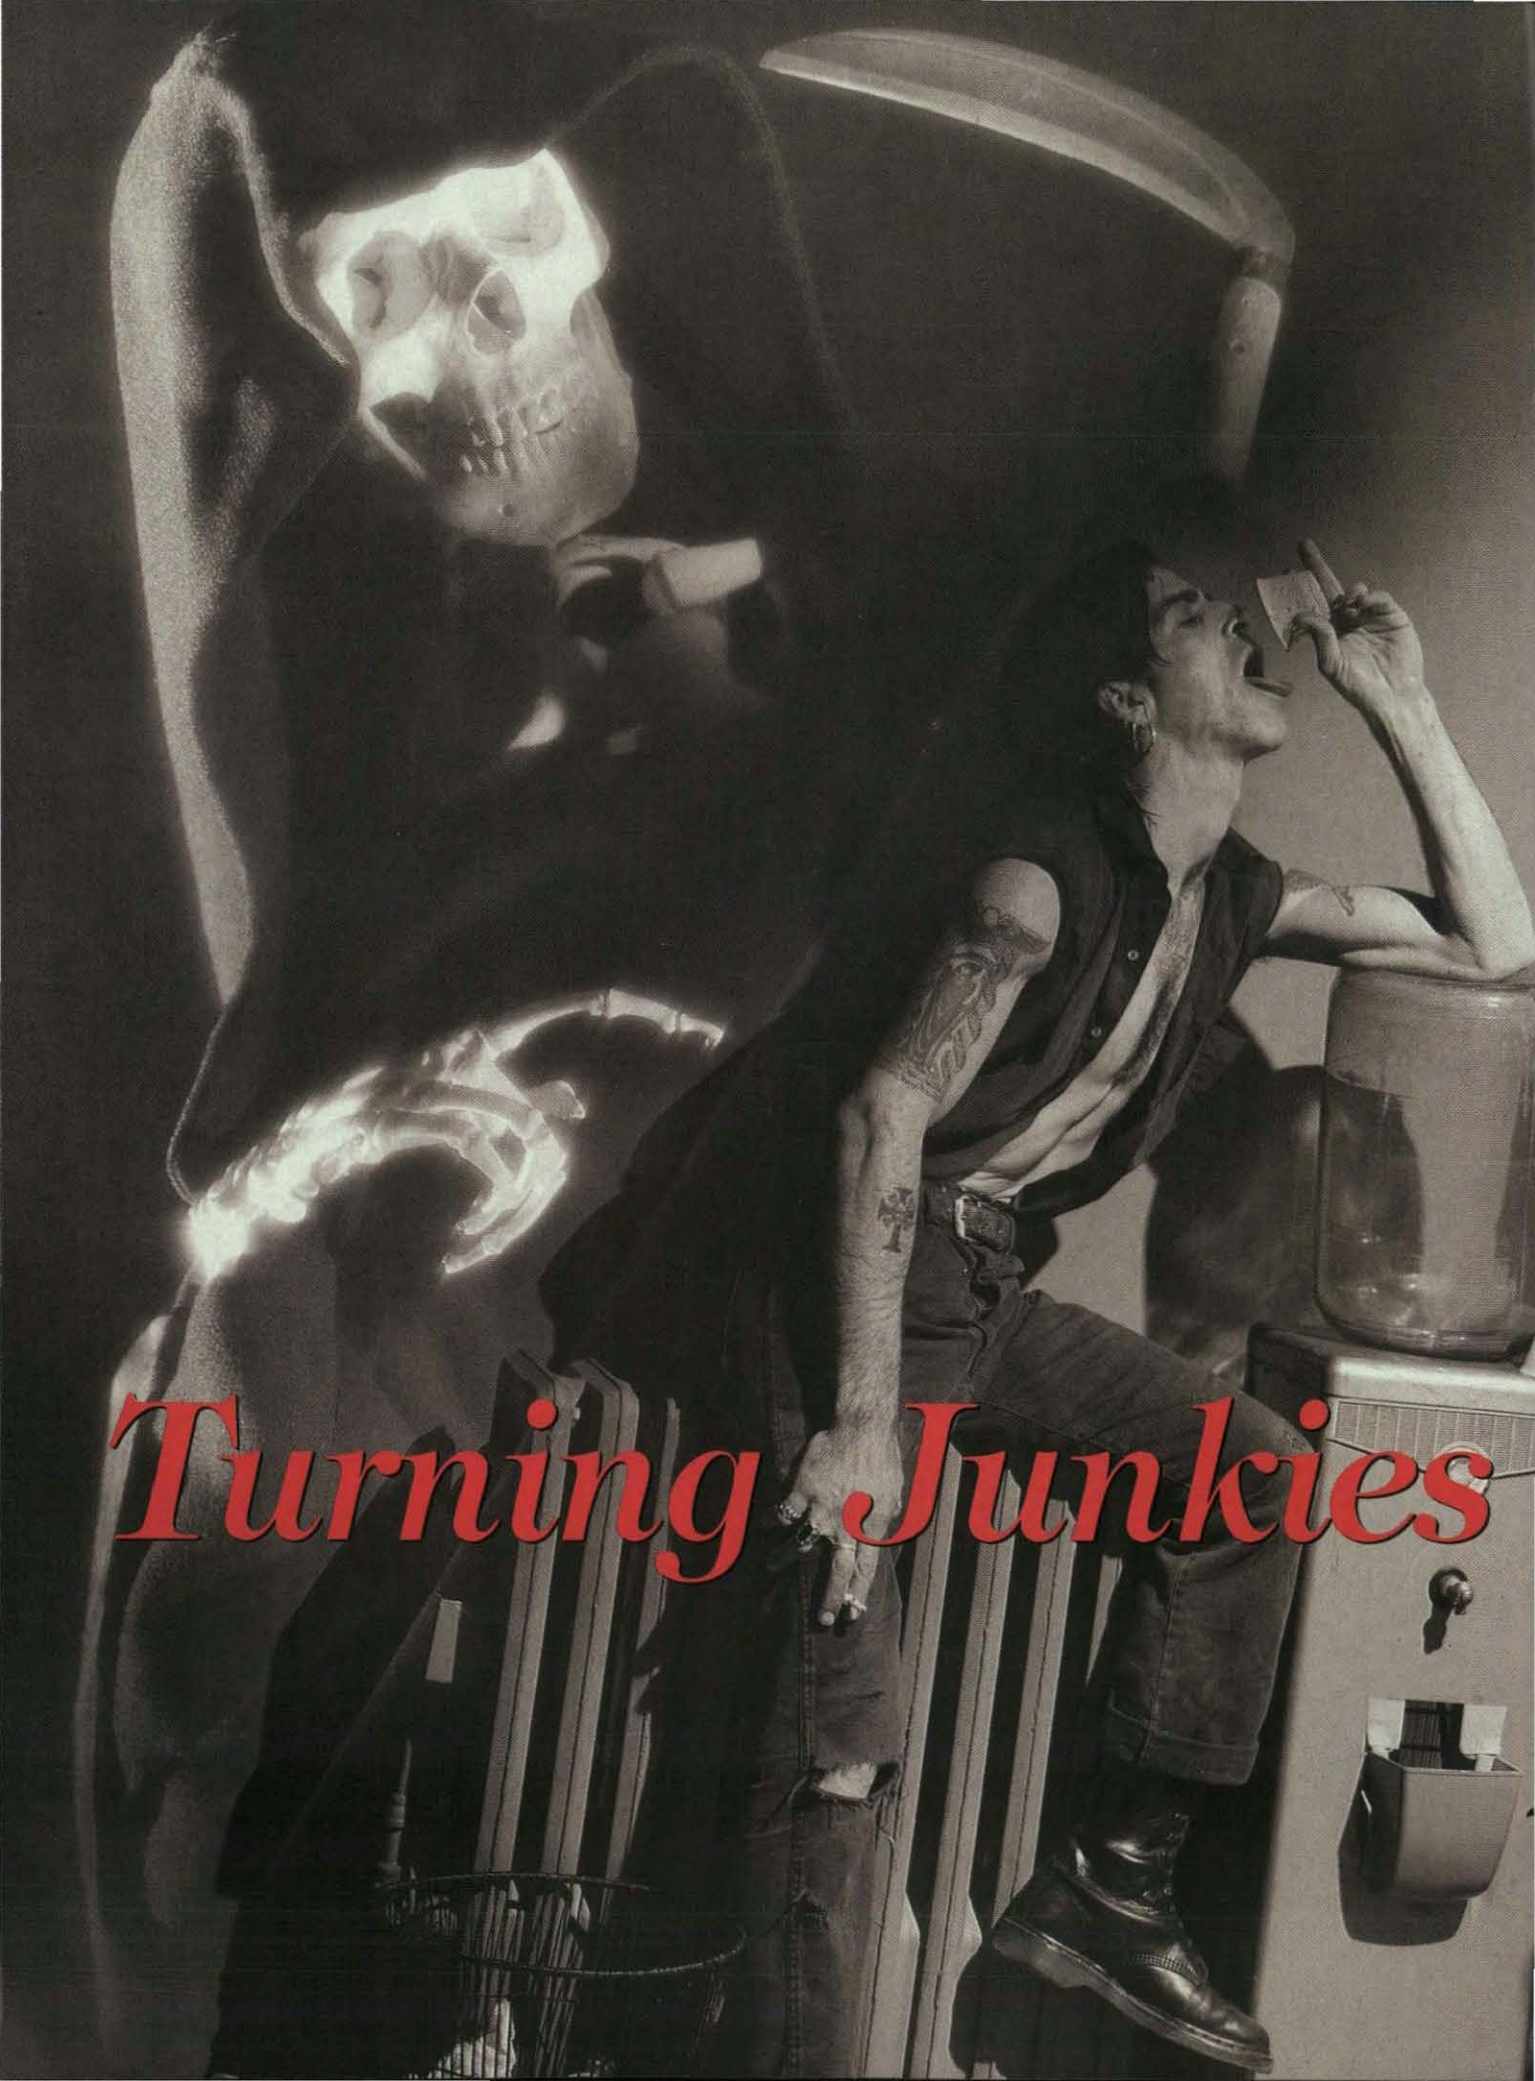

The owner shrugged. "Yesterday, you were sitting next to the window."

Into Junkies

AMERICA'S METHADONE TREATMENT PROGRAM

BY SCOTT SCHALIN

American drug-treatment officials endorse Nazi-invented methadone as a safe way to wean junkies off heroin. But this synthetic opiate hooks deeper and robs souls just the same.

METHADONE

German chemists, under orders from Hitler, developed an inexpensive morphine substitute. The synthetic opiate was first called Adolfine, in honor of the brutal dictator.

It took a year, but Bruce Moreland finally ran out of cash. Shooting $100 of heroin every day has a way of shooting a money load. Twelve hours after his last fix, Bruce's bones ached, and his body twitched. The contents of his last meal—a 48-ounce malt liquor—teased their way up his throat, before descending quickly to his cramping gut. He would've given his last buck for a bag, if he hadn't done that just the night before.

Faced with the daunting proposition of getting high without cash, Bruce recalled a fucked-up conversation with another shooter regarding methadone clinics. The two had laughed then at the kindly image of Uncle Sam getting junkies clean by turning them onto methadone. Bruce wasn't laughing anymore. If the government was selling, he was definitely buying.

The methadone clinic was in the crotch of Hollywood, a few streets away from the scrawny hookers of Sunset and Vine. Bruce envied their pussies. If he'd been born with a hole between his legs, he'd gladly have rented it out for a small bag. It was after 7:30 a.m. when Bruce entered the clinic. He gave a sample of his piss, showed his tracks to the doctor during a brief interview, and filled out some forms. Half an hour later, he was handed a paper cup like those that children use to swill Kool Aid at birthday barbeques. Only this punch was spiked with 80 milligrams of methadone, pale-orange, liquid inertia. The gulp was sweet.

He handed the empty cup back to the nurse through a sliding, metal tray. He smiled his thanks and wandered aimlessly into the morning's smoggy glare. "Welcome to the first day of methadone detox," the part-time doctor had said. "It's the first day of the rest of your life." For Bruce, it would be the first of 300 first days of the rest of his life.

At least half a million Americans are addicted to heroin today. Until the mid-'80s, the bastard offspring of opium was exported primarily from Southeast Asia's Golden Triangle, a remote, mountainous area where the borders of Thailand, Laos and Myanmar (formerly Burma) converge. But by 1989, Iran and Afghanistan were two of many countries that had increased their opium exports in hopes of earning a bigger chunk of the annual $500 billion global drug trade. Today, even Mexico is growing more opium, and its neighborly proximity to the U.S. makes it a threat to become America's new heroin supplier. In this competitive market, heroin purity has improved, while prices have dropped—thanks to the increased supply. As a result, drug experts now fear America is on the verge of a new heroin epidemic.

As the government searches for ways to control the crime and spread of AIDS associated with heroin abuse, solutions prove scarce and sometimes as controversial as the heroin itself. Some addicts are offered expensive, hospital detox clinics, others are thrown in jail. But approximately 110,000 junkies are currently enrolled in the methadone-treatment program, a tax-funded venture designed to get addicts off heroin by getting them addicted to methadone.

The drug was first developed in World War II when German casualties were cut off from their supply of pain-killing morphine. German chemists, under orders from Hitler, developed an inexpensive morphine substitute that didn't require opium as a raw material. The synthetic opiate was first called Adolfine, in honor of the brutal dictator, but later became known as methadone.

In 1965, as heroin addiction rose in America, the first methadone clinics were established in the U.S., after methadone was shown to block a junkie's craving for heroin. The program was successful enough to spawn others, and today there are about 750 methadone clinics nationwide. The procedure is simple: Anyone over 16 years old who claims to be an addict and has traces of opiates in her or his system can enter the program. Consent forms are completed, and a daily dosage is determined by the clinic's doctor, based on the severity of the patient's addiction. The longer a junkie's history of addiction, the stronger the jolt of methadone, with 120 milligrams being the maximum. The patient goes to the clinic every day and drinks his methadone on the premises.

Where a good shot of smack will keep the average doper high for only three or four hours, the methadone stupor lasts longer than 24 hours, keeping the user blotted until the next day when he returns for another dose. In addition, the methadone high is purportedly calmer and less euphoric than the heroin sledgehammer. It is the methadone program's belief that long-term treatment can break an addict's rollercoaster cycle of forever chasing a fix to stave off withdrawals, providing stability to get her or his life on track.

There are two kinds of methadone treatment. Detoxification lasts 21 days. If the junkie uses nothing other than his daily dose of methadone, he is quickly weaned on lower and lower milligram amounts until his dosage is so low that he can leave the program after three weeks drug free and without the craving for heroin. But a person who has fixed every day for years will almost certainly yield to the heroin juggernaut within days of his detox release. Dr. John Ball, senior scientist at the Addiction Research Center and co-author of The Effectiveness of Methadone Maintenance Treatment, found that 82% of the patients who left methadone treatment relapsed into intravenous drug use within the first year. "Everybody has given up on [detox]," admits Dr. Ball. "That alone, we know now, does not go very far."

Eighty-two percent of the patients who left methadone treatment relapsed into intravenous drug use within the first year. "Everybody has given up on detox," admits Dr. Ball.

The only way for the program to be successful is through a patient's long-term commitment, called methadone maintenance. A successful methadone-maintenance program has no time limit and, in fact, is considered life-long. In other words, a patient who requests maintenance (usually after several failed detox attempts) receives daily doses of the drug over whatever extended period of time is deemed clinically appropriate, as outlined by the Methadone Treatment Manual (MTM), written for the U.S. Department of Justice in 1973. Dr. Ball is adamant that the longer the treatment persists, the greater its success. "For those who enter the clinic for a year or longer and change from shooting heroin to taking oral methadone and are under medical supervision and go along with the program routine, there's a 71% decrease in their intravenous use and an 80% reduction in their criminal behavior."

In the case of methadone maintenance, the government supports a life sentence of controlled addiction. Some patients have been in the program, receiving tax-funded doses of methadone for more than 20 years, and will most likely continue in this way until the day they die. But the longer maintenance drags on, the more money must be allocated for its upkeep. Since patients tend to drift in and out of the program, exact expense figures vary. In 1990 the average cost per patient was approximately $1,750 for every six months, according to a spokesperson for the National Institute on Drug Abuse. Double that figure, and the yearly average for patient upkeep totals $3,500 per person. Multiply that figure by the 110,000 people currently enrolled in methadone clinics, and the annual average could reach a staggering $385 million spent on getting junkies high. Nevertheless, Dr. Ball insists the budget should be even greater. "It should be three times more," he says. "We've got women coming in with young children, you've got pregnant addicts; you can say,

'Turn them out, it's their problem.' But that's hardly realistic. You need medical coverage and support and efforts to rehabilitate."

John A. drifted in and out of methadone programs during his years of heroin abuse. He finally realized that methadone was futile in his fight against other drugs. "I've never met anybody who's detoxed with methadone," he says. "If your whole world is built around using heroin, then just getting something [like methadone] that's maybe going to take the edge off is not going to do anything. Assuming that the drug [heroin] is the problem is really simplistic and fairly stupid. It's not. There are a lot of problems that cause somebody to take drugs. [Methadone] addresses the symptoms, but not the cause."

The methadone program has assigned itself greater import since the dawn of AIDS. In 1981 there were only 21 cases of AIDS among heterosexuals who acquired the disease through intravenous drug use. Over the next ten years that number skyrocketed to 41,988. IV drug use is now the primary way the killer disease is spread within the heterosexual community. The methadone program's logic insists that since methadone is taken orally, addicts in treatment no longer use needles, thus reducing the risk of spreading diseases like hepatitis and, most importantly, AIDS. But methadone treatment has only shown success rates after a year or more of treatment. A report by the General Accounting Office in 1990 discovered that "a substantial number of heroin addicts in the methadone program...continue to use heroin six months after entering treatment." In addition, there are fewer pure heroin users today than ever before.

According to the Los Angeles Times, shooting speedballs, a mixture of heroin and cocaine, has become the latest craze among the junkie set. Where methadone at the proper dose may block the addict's craving for heroin, it does nothing for cocaine. Even if the junkie stops shooting smack, he'll still crave the coke rush that, for him, can only be obtained by blasting it through his veins. "I knew people that were on high doses of methadone that would shoot coke because they just needed to have something to shoot," says John A. In these cases, the argument for oral methadone as a way to wean addicts off the needle proves moot.

Although clinics are supposed to take weekly urine samples to determine if a patient is still using other narcotics, the methadone program does not punish or ever terminate a patient's enrollment, even if the patient's urine proves dirty. If urine shows that narcotics are present, the patient is elevated to a higher dosage of methadone in an attempt to curb the other cravings. "Addicts don't become Boy Scouts overnight," admits the matronly Dr. Isobel Dalali, clinic coordinator of the methadone program at the Housemates Alexandria and Romi have devised a unique way of dealing with occasional spats. "Whoever's been bad," explains golden-maned Romi, "gets locked in the cage till she cools the fuck down." "Let me out!" begs Alexandria, pressing bare breasts against the bars.

"No!" Romi snaps at her pet. "You're not ready to be good yet!" "I'm ready!" promises Alexandria, sliding a cool rod between her thighs. "I'll be good!" "All right," says Romi. "Let's see if you deserve to be free." She licks her lips and leans forward, adding, "All it takes is a twist of the key to open this box."

Veterans Administration Hospital in Los Angeles. "If [a patient] continues to use [heroin or other drugs], then we will detox him. When he starts getting down to 30 milligrams [of methadone], he feels it," she smiles matter-of-factly, as if speaking of laboratory mice. "Then he wants to know how he can get back in good standing [and earn higher dosages]. If [the patient] cleans up, we will reconsider putting [the patient] back on maintenance." For the addict who likes to be high, it's a win-win situation.

The question remains: Does an addict who enters the methadone program with a heroin addiction benefit by being given a new one? "Methadone is addicting," states the MTM. But "for the [person] already addicted to heroin, the addicting nature of methadone is one of methadone's chief therapeutic advantages." The program's logic reasons that since addicts are assured of a daily fix that'll last 24 hours, the patient can seek employment and get his life on track. Especially since "methadone-maintenance treatment enables patients to function without abnormal fluctuations in performance," according to Dr. Norman B. Gordon in the MTM.

What's normal about a synthetic opiate that not only impairs the body's motor functions, but also keeps the user in a mental haze that may impede his social interactions? "It's a central-nervous-system depressant," explains Dr. Dalali. "But people on methadone have no trouble driving or working around machinery. People just kind of adapt to it." Former methadone patient Michelle R. remembers a different reaction. "There were days if I went to work, I would nod out," she recalls. "I was always dinging the car when I was on methadone." Yet methadone patients have no restriction on their driver's licenses. Other side effects, such as constipation, headaches, nausea and lack of sex drive, pale in comparison to the most dangerous and common occurrence of "nodding," or suddenly falling asleep no matter when or where a patient may be.

"Methadone incapacitates you," says Rod D., who sought methadone detox when his $60-$100-a-day heroin habit broke his bank account. "I'd take it in the morning, get insanely euphoric and around five [p.m.] I was going out [nodding], no matter where I was," he relates. The clinics he attended in New York still tried to push him into long-term maintenance in lieu of the short and unsuccessful detox. Rod always declined. "I had seen people who had been on [methadone maintenance] for 12 years, and the way they looked frightened me so much. They all had really swollen hands and sores, and they were like zombies."

It has been suggested that turning heroin addicts into zombies may be the true purpose of the methadone program. An article in The Journal of the American Medical Association cited a Village Voice critic of methadone who wrote, "Methadone is not rehabilitation. It is the state's way of keeping tabs on junkies by providing them with a legalized get-high more debilitating than heroin. The state would just as soon give all junkies a life sentence in this chemical jail." Actually, the government that allocates money to fund this program still isn't sure where it stands on the methadone issue. The White House Conference for a Drug Free America's Final Report in June 1988 acknowledged that, "Methadone substitutes one drug for another, and if it were not available, addicts would have no option but to go through withdrawals and become drug free."

Bruce Moreland went through withdrawals when he was arrested a second time for possession of heroin. Moreland, the bass player in the now-defunct band Wall of Voodoo, says he nearly went out of his mind in prison. He didn't sleep for a month and battled the flu and pneumonia for the first six months of his two-year sentence. When he was paroled, he was sober, and has remained clean for the past three years. Still, he adamantly maintains his prison hell was preferable to his 300 attempts at methadone detox and five tries at long-term maintenance. Bruce says that if he hadn't spent 15 years in methadone programs, he would be a lot further along in his life than he is today.

The only chance methadone treatment has for success—long-term commitment—is with patient support and close counselor rapport. Handing an addict a gulp of methadone and sending him blindly on his way does nothing to change his social patterns. The program must have an available staff that maintains positive, constant support of their patients. The V.A. Hospital's methadone program in Los Angeles seems exemplary in following the guidelines for staff availability and offering its patients "counseling, counseling, counseling, [until] you're blue in the face with counseling," laughs Dr. Dalali, the clinic's psychologist.

Unfortunately, most clinics either can't afford or don't care enough to maintain a large, supportive staff. Except for the public programs that operate out of hospitals, many of the private clinics function out of closed banks or converted welfare offices, and provide little in the way of counseling. Despite government funding, patients at private clinics contribute $300 or more a month to obtain their methadone. The atmosphere at these centers can be as sleazy as the one the addict hopes to escape.

Michelle R. began her methadone treatment as a way to escape the financial burden of buying dope on the streets. At one point during her three years of maintenance, she received her daily doses from a private office inside one of the cheerless high-rises in Century City, California. She paid $200 a month and never saw a doctor after her initial consultation. Instead of dealing with a supportive staff, she was often harassed by the man who ran the operation at that time. "He was a creep who would be leechy with me," she says bitterly. At first, she explains, he was really nice and even let her pay cheaper rates for the methadone. "Eventually I couldn't pay anymore, and finally [he] kicked me off [because] I wouldn't sleep with him." She left the clinic and has now been clean for four and a half years thanks to Narcotics Anonymous, which boasts over 700,000 former addicts who've gotten clean through their patient-supported program.

If there is a lack of staff support at some of the methadone clinics, it's a direct result of the decreased funding, according to Dr. Ball.

"There are bad programs out there, just like there's good and bad surgery," he admits, "and if the funding keeps decreasing, there are not going to be as many good programs."

But former addict Rod saw similar understaffing problems even ten years ago when he was in the program. "I've been to methadone clinics all across the country, and there was [no staff support] whatsoever," he insists. "The ones I've been to in Florida and Los Angeles are like this private racket. People sold pills in the parking lot. I had to pay ten dollars a day, and that was clearly all they were interested in."

John A. agrees. "Nobody ever talked to me once, and nobody ever suggested that I go to any kind of groups."

Some former addicts feel that the millions spent on methadone treatment would be better spent on hospital detox programs or recovery houses that get people off drugs with counseling and hands-on support. The idea of paying for an addict to get clean in a multi-month, in-house program seems preferable to supporting his methadone intake for many years. "I went through a recovery house," explains John. "[The house] was a combination of heavy discipline and Twelve Step meetings. There's no drugs at all. I was there for 16 months and it worked beautifully." John's been clean for seven years. Rod concurs. After methadone failed so often, he went into a rigorous six-month treatment program paid for by the state. "It's like boot camp," he says. "They teach you how to live without drugs." After those six months, he never used again. That was five years ago.

Meanwhile, until a conclusive solution to heroin addiction can be found, a needle exchange program that provides clean needles to junkies, might prove a more efficient barrier to the spread of AIDS. Ironically, the government seems opposed to needle-exchange programs on the basis that it encourages junkies to use drugs. Former President Bush was "opposed to exchange of needles under any condition"; and John Gibbons, a spokesman for Health and Human Services Secretary Louis Sullivan said, "Such programs can be viewed as sanctioning drug use. The administration has consistently conveyed that illicit drug use is unacceptable and will not be tolerated." Unless, of course, it's government controlled.

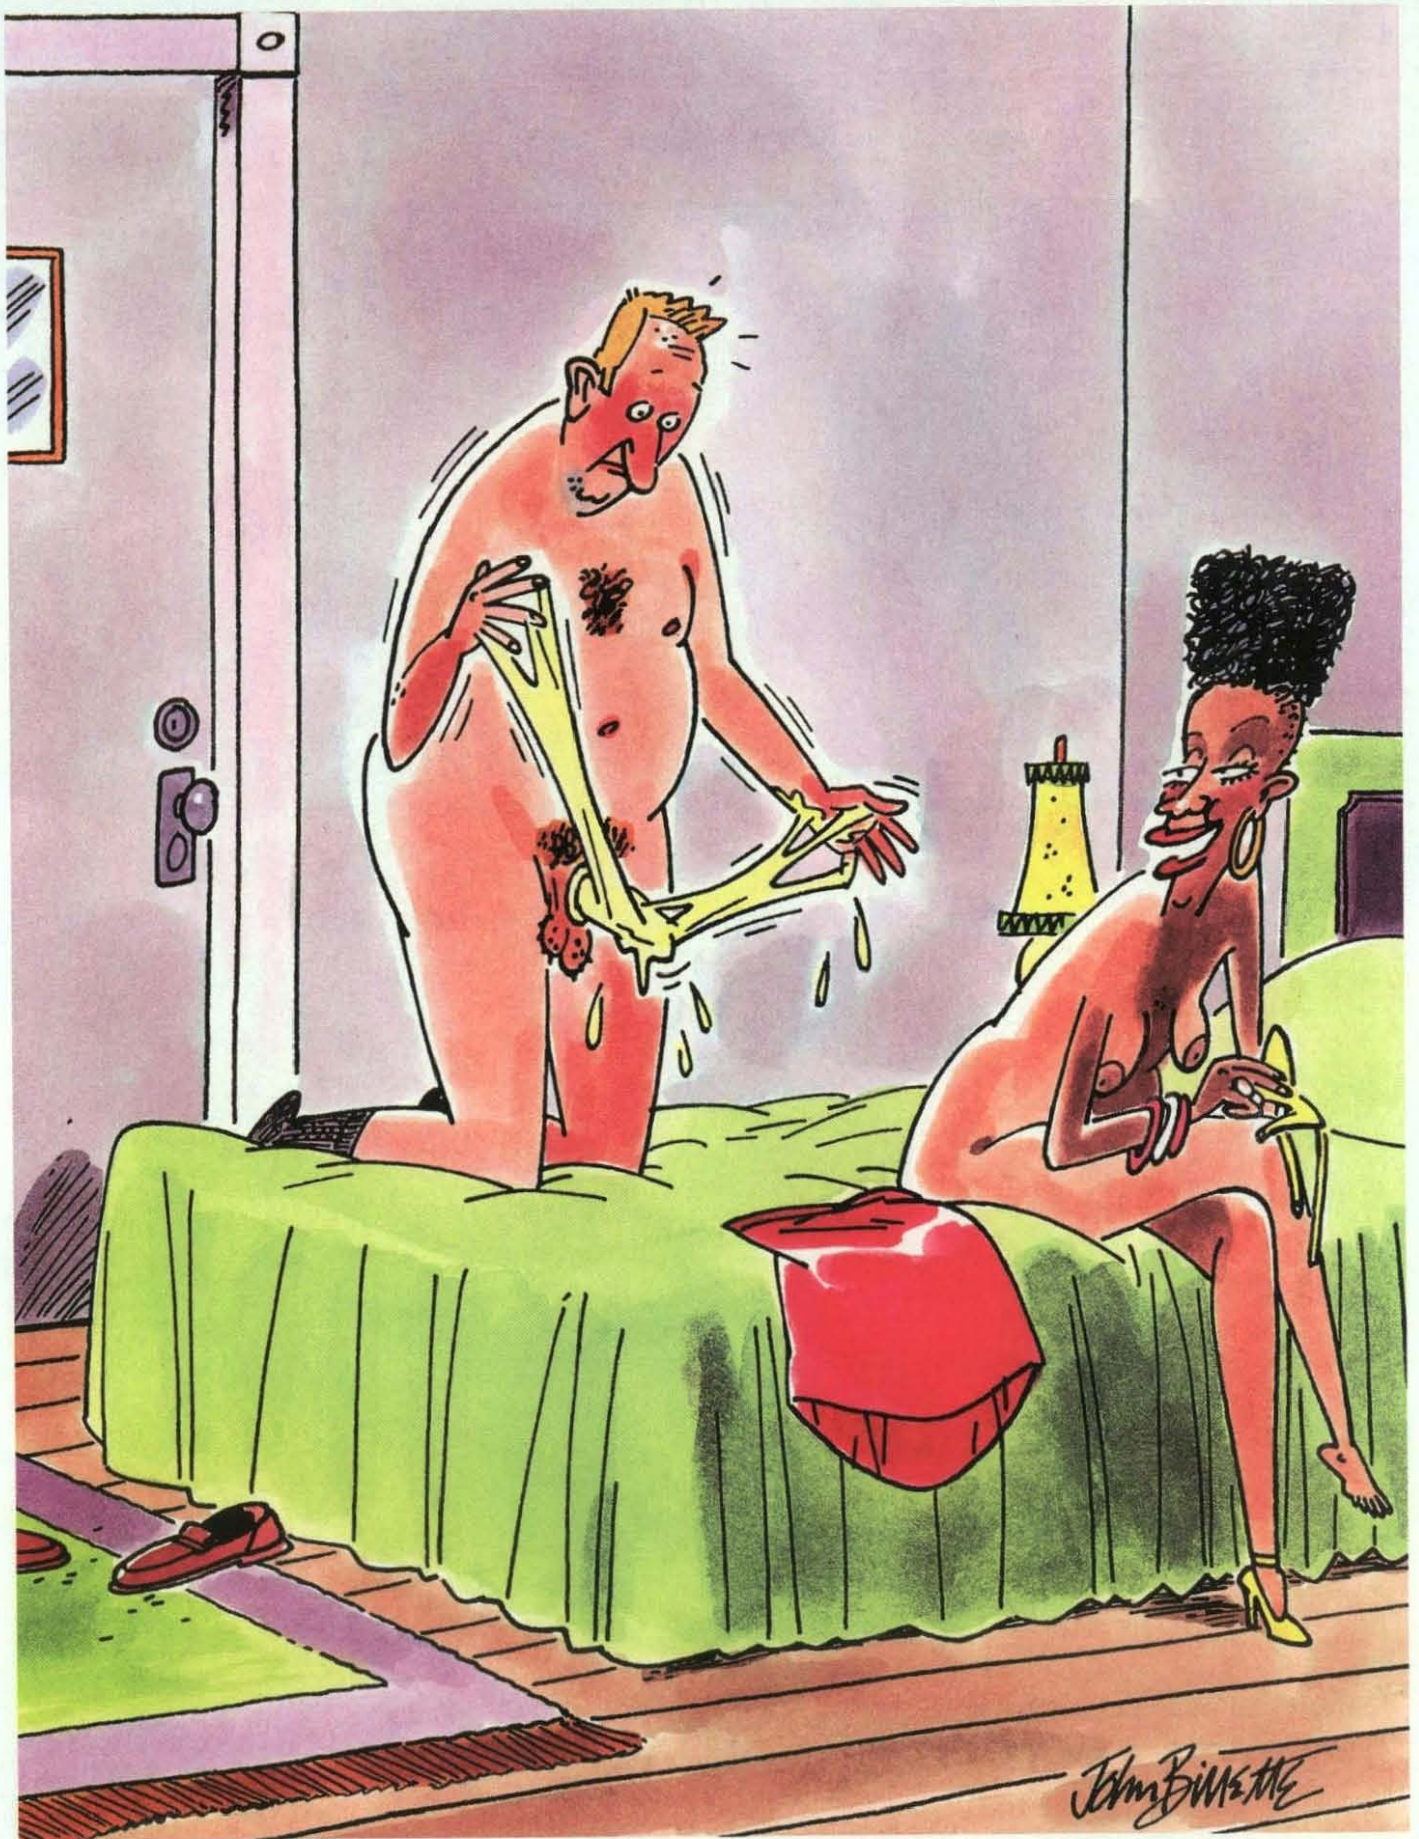

"Nothing is going to be miraculous," admits Dr. Ball, who remains an adamant supporter of methadone treatment. "We're dealing with a very difficult problem. You're not going to turn these people around and make them middle-class, upstanding individuals overnight. It's going to take time, usually some years. Instead of looking for magical quick fixes and always being critical [of methadone], we have to look at the end result."

Dr. Dalali and the V.A. Hospital's press watchdog, Marc DeFalco, walk past the methadone distribution area of the V.A.'s clinic. A patient flashes his ID badge to the nurse behind the glass who slides the man his dose of methadone. The man's eyes are distant and sunken into his skull. His prematurely graying hair is also receding. He places the paper cup to his lips and slowly tilts his head further and further back, until his bald spot practically parallels his spine. He drinks.

Long after the tiny portion has slid down his throat, the patient holds the position and taps his finger on the bottom of the paper cup. Tap-tap-tap. He strives for any remaining drop that may be stubbornly clinging to the cup's waxy lining. There is no more. He straightens up and smiles at the elderly nurse.

Before he passes the cup back to her, the optimist tries once more, quickly tilting the empty cup into his mouth. The drug is definitely gone. He thanks the nurse, lights a cigarette and wanders aimlessly into the morning's smoggy glare. Today is another day of the rest of his life.

"Relax, sugar. It happens all the time. My pussy melted your rubber!"

"The other girl got behind him, and I swear to God, she put her tongue up his ass. He was trying to sing, and I heard him yelling, 'Holy fuck! I'm being felched!'"

"We get a lot of phone calls more than anything," he adds. "Some of the girls are intimidated at the shows, but they get our phone number and call to set up a date. Sometimes the phone doesn't stop ringing all day. Some of the groupies are idiots, and once in a while, you can run into a Fatal Attraction-type deal, but for the most part, things stay fun and friendly and fucking hot."

When asked if any bizarre sex practices have gone down between himself and a pre-moistened admirer, Bales laughs and says, "I don't know what bizarre is anymore."

A leggy, corn-fed slut in a tight, black mini-dress struts up to the van of the band set to play a midnight show at a club called Coconut Teaser's. She's tall and thin, and her long, straight hair is dyed an odd shade of magenta. Her body is tanned and muscular. She makes good money dancing weeknights at a strip club near the airport. The lead singer of the band is smoking a joint and tossing a beer. She likes his looks; he likes hers. They smile and exchange pleasantries. Within minutes, they're tumbling into the back of the van. Ignoring the fact that his drummer and rhythm guitarist are half asleep in the front, the vocalist rolls down his skin-tight jeans and tugs on the girl's tight, suede dress. She's not wearing panties. He pulls her curvaceous ass onto his lap. She works his cock into her and begins to ride. They've neglected to shut the van door. Their fuck is clearly visible to the passersby on the Strip, who've seen it all before. The couple doesn't stop jamming until the singer blows his load, at which point the lady dismounts, rolls her dress down, climbs out of the van and continues her strut down the street.

"Have a good show," she calls, over her shoulder.

Without her makeup on, Slink looks like any pretty college sophomore. But when she hits the Strip on weekends, she's fond of wearing fishnet stockings and four-inch stiletto heels. Slink earned her nickname from a band who appreciated the tightly voluptuous body she reveals when she wears her favorite, red tube-dress. Though only 20, Slink frequents every club on the Strip. "I like heavy metal," she says. "The harder, the better. It's the ultimate self-expression, and it's sexy. That's how I tell if I like a band: if I feel more powerful."

Slink admits she and her friends felt a little nervous and out of place at first prowl on the Strip, but now, having sucked and bedded many of their local heroes, they feel more confident. Slink admits to being competitive. "We try to see who can get the cutest guy. Usually by the time I meet them, I'm kind of drunk. By the end of the night I feel uninhibited. Those are my favorite kind of guys, and sometimes I obsess on them. One guy I remember—we were in the back of his car making out, and he threw up all over me. That was the end of that. Another time, a couple of girlfriends and I were at a club, and the warm-up band was really cute. My girlfriend and I went back with them to their apartment and ended up with one guy on the bed. It was pretty wild. He wanted us to tie him up with our stockings and bras. That was cool."

Before Slink teeters off on her heels to buy some colored condoms at the Pleasure Chest, a sex emporium a few blocks away, she is asked if she resents the word groupie. "Other people have hobbies that they're into, and they're not called groupies," she argues. "I had one boyfriend who was into sports, and no one called him a groupie, and he went to all the games."

"One time, me and Billy B. Nasty, our band's singer, did this chick behind some bushes on the Strip," boasts the appropriately named Johnny Lust, drummer of the band Creature, whose proudly proclaimed band motto is "To boldly sleaze where no band has sleazed before."

"She said she was Izzy Stradlin's [from Guns N' Roses] girlfriend, and we were like, 'Right!' We were double-pumping this chick, and I [was doing her] from behind while Billy was getting head. I was really drunk, and it started feeling really good. But I kept falling out of her. Billy started laughing and said, 'Lust, quit that shit. I'm about to come!' and she pulled off and said, 'Not in my mouth.' That totally blew the whole thing."

Lust says that, for some reason, he and Billy always have their sleaziest encounters together. "One time, Billy and I were standing at the bar upstairs at the Rainbow, and this chick and her girlfriend came by, and the one said, 'Aren't you Billy B. Nasty? I wish I could give you

"I realized she'd left her crotch rot all over my head! I couldn't get rid of that stink for two weeks, and I had to burn one of my favorite shirts because it reeked."

head." She went down on him right there. The place was full of people! I looked over at her girlfriend, and she said, 'I'm not doing anything like that. If you want your dick sucked, you better whip it out while she's going for him.' So I pulled my pants down, and she fired up both of us. Finally, Billy walked off with her to the girl's bathroom to do her. I was standing at this totally crowded bar with this fucking flagpole out."

* * *
Groupie girls on Sunset are almost horny enough to fuck a nun, according to Stanky Poozle of the Strip-shredding band Sykotic Sinfoney, whose members not only wear makeup onstage, but full costumes as well. Stanky's trademark is a complete nun's habit.

Stanky says the band didn't originally put costumes on to try to get laid—that's just the way it happened. The band, he reveals, goes for large women, not the fashion-model types. "We have about as many guy groupies as we do girl groupies," Stanky explains. "We take them back to our hotel and set them up with each other. Then we jack off while we watch them fuck!"

* * *
Johnny Psycho has been a bouncer and a security man, but he mostly works as a roadie for various metal and alternative acts. "After one show," he remembers, "this girl came up to me and asked if I was with the band. She reminded me of, like, a Shirley MacLaine of the alternative/punk set. She decided to latch onto me. When we got back home [to my apartment], my roommate [the band's lead singer] got interested in her and kept trying to flirt with her. So I said, 'I guess I'd better let you guys have your free time,' and she said, 'I can hardly wait for him to leave so we can get it on!'"

"All kinds of girls just want to be the sex puppets of the band. Girls would pull off their shirts and say, 'Look at these!' I used to accuse this one guitarist of being the whore of the band, but when we added it up, I was the one being laid more than anybody else."

Sometimes, Psycho admits, it gets out of hand. "The weirdest shit I ever saw was in a club where a pretty popular band had been really getting the crowd worked up, especially the girls, and the lead singer started singing this really heavy tune, while he was just wearing these little briefs. All of a sudden, these two girls jumped onstage. One got on her knees, pulled his briefs down a bit, and got him in her mouth right there in front of the crowd. The other girl got behind him, and I swear to God, she put her tongue up his ass. He was trying to sing, and I heard him yelling, 'Holy fuck! I'm being felched!'"

Some of the women who threw themselves Psycho's way have left a bad impression. "One time," he remembers, "the band was playing a harder-edged, speed-metal tune, and this chick jumped up on my shoulders, clamped her legs around my neck and rode me around the dance floor. I was into it at the time. She had shorts and a T-shirt on and was looking pretty hot. But eventually she got off and headed for some other guy, and I started noticing this funky smell. When I put my hand on the back of my neck, I realized she'd left her crotch rot all over my head! I couldn't get rid of that stink for two weeks, and I had to burn one of my favorite shirts because it reeked. Some guys dig that funk, but I don't!"

Tina is an attractive woman with black hair that reaches down to a perfectly shaped ass. She is in her late twenties, and still enjoys being a part of what is primarily a younger scene. "It's true that a lot of girls don't take care of themselves," Tina remarks. "Some of them are just stupid, and the first time a musician calls them by their first name, they get all goofy and do anything for the guy. I've got a decent job in an office, and I keep my ass in shape at the gym. I like to fuck around with the rocker boys, but I'm not going to fuck up my life over it."

Tina's take-charge approach to who she chooses to schtup is unusual on the Strip. In fact, even with the threat of AIDS and other sexually transmitted diseases, not too many of the groupies seem to worry.

"I just try not to think about it," says Slink. "I just get so wasted that I don't even think about it until the next morning. I knew one guy had slept with a really sleazy girl; so I just avoided him."

According to the bands, the biggest danger about screwing around on the Strip is that one of the chicks a wanna-be rocker fucks with ends up working for a record company. He'll walk into a meeting, and some businesswoman in a power suit might say, "I remember you. You're a pig. You came in my hair!"

"I hope you realize I'm going to have to charge you for that."

If you've been reluctant to purchase sensual aides through the mail, we would like to offer you three things that might change your mind.

1. We guarantee your privacy.

Everything we ship is plainly and securely wrapped, with no clue to its contents from the outside. All transactions are strictly confidential, and we never sell, rent or trade any names.

2. We guarantee your satisfaction.

If a product is unsatisfactory simply return it for replacement or refund.

3. We guarantee that the product you choose will keep giving you pleasure. Should it malfunction, simply return it to us for a replacement.

What is the Xandria Collection?

It is a very special collection of the finest and most effective sexual products from around the world. It is designed for both the timid and the bold. For anyone who has ever wished there could be something more to their sensual pleasures.

The Xandria Gold Collection...celebrates the possibilities for pleasure we each have within us. Send for the Xandria Collection Gold Edition Catalogue. Its price of $4.00 is applied in full to your first order.

BRAND NEW METHOD & VIDEO!
THE ONLY WAY THAT REALLY WORKS!

the Right Way to ENLARGE your PENIS

There's a lot more to it than just pumping it up!

SECRETS OF SUCCESS DEMONSTRATED IN EXACT, STEP-BY-STEP DETAIL

ERECTION BEFORE

ERECTION AFTER MEGA-10

ERECTION BEFORE

ERECTION AFTER MEGA-10

You'll see top XXX-stars going through this new system and enjoying their huge size with their partners! You'll see such demonstrations as:

- How to increase size and staying power at the same time!
- How to develop the ability to climax without cumming - and maintain a full erection for continued sex!
- How to develop the internal muscles that make your penis thrust out and up as never before!
- How the three different shapes of penises affect sex!
- Why pumping up by itself doesn't work!
- How long it will take to show a measurable difference.
- A secret of immediate size increase any man can use anytime for instant results!
- The equipment you'll need... how often to use the system... the important side benefits of the system... how women feel about male genital size... much, much more!

UNIQUE FOUR-STEP SYSTEM VITAL TO SUCCESS!

If you've ever dreamed of seeing your penis grow as much as several inches longer and thicker... probing new depths of ecstasy within your partner... stretching aroused openings to the limit as few men ever have, this extraordinary 4-way system is your ticket to success! But pumping up with a vacuum device is not enough! Unless you know and use ALL 4 PARTS of this proven system, you'll never see how really huge your penis can get! Now, for the first time, everything you need to do is shown, step-by-step on this exciting video!

CASE HISTORIES PROVE THIS SYSTEM WORKS WHERE OTHERS FAIL!

Doctors measured and recorded giant increases in both length and thickness in men who carefully followed this system. (There was no improvement noted in the men using other enlargement techniques.)

- Youth of 19, grows 2.4 longer, 2.3 thicker!
- Man aged 60, gains over 2.6 in length and circumference!
- 36-year old develops 2.4 in length, almost 2 in girth!
- Man of 61, 2.7 length increase, 3.1 in girth!
- 58-year old documented 2.8 length increase, 2 1/2 around!
- 3.1 length increase for 20 year old; 2.2 around!

JUST USING A VACUUM PUMP IS NOT ENOUGH!

Yes, a vacuum pump is essential to increasing penis size. But pumping up is only one-fourth of the secret to success. Without all four parts in place, in order, properly used, you are probably doomed to failure. This is the first video that takes you step-by-step through the only enlargement system ever proven to really work. That's why we call it THE RIGHT WAY TO ENLARGE YOUR PENIS! Regular $29.95 only $18.95

NO, YOUR EYES ARE NOT FOOLING YOU! HERE ARE 2 OF
THE MOST UNUSUAL XXX HARDCORE VIDEOS YOU'VE EVER SEEN!

A VIDEO REVIEW

... it blew my mind — to see one sister (Tammy) getting her brains fucked out and then it's the other sister (Donna) who has a gushing, squirting orgasm. Incredible!
— BIZARRE VIDEO NEWS

You won't believe your eyes when you see Tammy and Donna, the incredible 19-year-old Siamese twins who star in these exclusive one-of-a-kind videos! And you won't believe the sex acts they perform. Each video is totally uncensored, filmed close-up, and un-retouched. Not one dripping, shocking frame has been tampered with! Imagine two, gorgeous built, stunning 19-year-old sisters — joined at the hip! Imagine cumming in Tammy's mouth, and Donna being able to taste your sperm! Imagine having group sex outdoors with these unusual females... you and another stud mere inches apart, separated only by the bizarre growth of human flesh which connects these two cock-hungry nymphs! If this all sounds like the most shocking, unbelievable video you could ever imagine, you're right! It's all here, in SO-CLOSE-YOU-CAN-TOUCH, full, dripping, color!

In both videos, you'll SEE Tammy and Donna:

- ★ Have a "BLOWJOB RACE," where they compete to see which one can make her partner erupt in a geyser of cum the fastest!
- ★ Masturbating with a special double-ended, curved, monstrous dildo!
- ★ Getting fucked in the ass out in the woods by their lovers, standing side-by-side!
- ★ Having sex AFTER THEY'VE BEEN SURGICALLY SEPARATED!
- ★ And much, much, more!

Regularly sold for $39.95 each.

A $24.95 FREE BONUS with every order of "JOINED" and "SEPARATED".

The X-Video that made NATIONAL HEADLINES:

Long Dong Silver

The ORIGINAL uncensored version co-starring SEKA! Long Dong Silver's mammoth black muscle of love is no myth — a fearsome 18-inch fuckstick that hangs to his knees — and that's soft! You'll see horny superstar SEKA make love to this colossal cock, STUFFING her hot holes beyond belief! This controversial COLLECTOR'S CLASSIC is available in limited quantities only!

PERFECT SEX

A QUARTET OF LESSONS IN LUST!

Finally on video . . . the first ever, live on camera step-by-step "how-to" demonstrations! Here are four erotic self-help tapes where all the major sex acts are explored in explicit detail in this quartet of lessons in lust!

How To Perform FELLATIO.

Karen Summer can teach any woman how to give perfect head, even perform 'Deep Throat.' See her and others demonstrate and discover some new and 'special' tricks! Magnificent and vivid close-ups!

The Fine Art of ANAL INTERCOURSE.

Luscious Erica Boyer surrenders her ass in this common sense primer for anal novices and hardcore buggerers alike! A spectacular and most daring video! Packed with outrageous footage of how to fuck ass! A must for any collection.

How To ENLARGE YOUR PENIS.

Meet Scott Taylor . . . "king of penis enlargement" and see actual penis growth occur right before your eyes! He's bigger than Jeff Stryker or even John Holmes and you can now find out exactly how his techniques can work for you! No man interested in increasing penis size can be without this tape!

The Fine Art of CUNNILINGUS.

See Mark Wallace go down on tender teasers Tiffany Blake and Kari Foxx. Learn anything and everything you'll need to know about sucking pussy . . . including special secrets to doing what every woman wants and doing it better than any man alive! Raise your make-out score by becoming an expert!

Send To: PERFECT VIDEO • P. O. Box 35445 • Los Angeles, CA 90035

TEMPLE OF LUST

Take a sexy safari with sensational
Victoria Paris
while she devours
Jon Martin... then Susan Vegas gets it in the backdoor from Steve...
Sabrina shows
Carol Cummings
how to use her new 'toy'... and ebony superstud,
Sean Michaels, gives Raven
Richards a really raunchy ride!

Victoria Paris

GOURMET FEAST

Paula Price

If it tastes good, eat it! Paula Price shows Eric some unusual spices... Tom Byron gets to knosh on Viviana's huge mounds of pleasure... and for dessert Nina DePonca and Brittany Stryker throw a party the guys will never forget!

2 1/2 Hours of Nonstop Sizzling Action!

PRIMITIVE PASSIONS

Sultry Kassie Nova gets it 'big time'
from Marc... then Raven Richards has both Peter North and Tim Nabors satisfy her deepest desires... and finally nasty Nina DePonca gives every inch of her perfect, glistening body to horny Jon to enjoy every way he wants!

Nina DePonca

STEAMY SEX POTS

First, luscious Trinity Loren gets her caboose plugged... then
Carol Cummings
gets Randy's action between her swaying gazongas... and that's just half the action! Brittany
Stryker, Elle Rio,
plus lez's - Angela
Baron and Barbara Dare- star in more sensational scenes!

Brittany Stryker

Sexual Aides

How to order them without embarrassment.

How to use them without disappointment.

If you've been reluctant to purchase sensual aides through the mail, we would like to offer you three things that might change your mind.

1. We guarantee your privacy. Everything we ship is plainly and securely wrapped, with no clue to its contents from the outside. All transactions are strictly confidential, and we never sell, rent or trade any names.
2. We guarantee your satisfaction. If a product is unsatisfactory simply return it for replacement or refund.
3. We guarantee that the product you choose will keep giving you pleasure. Should it malfunction, simply return it to us for a replacement.

What is the Xandria Collection?

It is a very special collection of the finest and most effective sexual products from around the world. It is designed for both the timid and the bold. For anyone who has ever wished there could be something more to their sensual pleasures.

The Xandria Gold Collection...celebrates the possibilities for pleasure we each have within us. Send for the Xandria Collection Gold Edition Catalogue. Its price of $4.00 is applied in full to your first order.

Write today. You have absolutely nothing to lose. And an entirely new world of enjoyment to gain.

The Xandria Collection, Dept. HU0593B
P.O. Box 31039, San Francisco, CA 94131

Please send me, by first class mail, the Xandria Collection Gold Edition Catalogue. Enclosed is my check or money order for $4.00 which will be applied towards my first purchase. ($4 U.S., $5 CAN., £3 U.K.)

YOU CAN HAVE A LONGER, THICKER, HARDER PENIS NOW!

WATCH YOUR PENIS GROW, GROW, GROW!

Over 3 Million Sold!

You can have erect measurements up to 12 inches! Enlarge your penis to its maximum potential!

THE WORLD'S BEST SELLING PENIS DEVELOPER NOW OFFERED AT A FRACTION OF ITS ORIGINAL PRICE!

Have you ever been embarrassed by the size of your penis? Have you tried to convince yourself it's not how big it is but how you use it? As long as your sex partner needs to be completely filled, you owe it to yourself to do something about a larger penis now!

Our penis developer will increase penis length, thickness, and make your erection harder and stiffer.

Did you know a woman's vagina will stretch and enlarge to accommodate a large penis? Imagine her excitement as you penetrate deeper than you ever have before.

How does our penis developer increase your penis length and diameter?

The answer is called hypermia, a medical term to describe blood filling into caverns of your penis. The caverns expand causing your penis to grow in size and diameter. The superior pump action and sealed vacuum of our penis developer urges your penis to grow to mammoth proportions. Our penis developer is not just a vibrator like some electric units you may see advertised. Remember, it is the precise slow super pumping action of our space age designed penis pump that builds your penis larger than you ever dreamed possible.

Act now if you are interested in penis enlargement. TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THIS SPECIAL OFFER NOW!

NOTICE: Our hand held penis pump as shown is not an electric massager or vibrator unit which may be dangerous, especially with liquids and gels, and cause electric shock and possible injury.

THE FAMOUS SCOTT TAYLOR PENIS ENLARGEMENT VIDEO TAPE.

Scott has an enormous penis- he uses the hand held penis developer (not an electric massager unit) in a step by step demonstration to show you what you need to know and how to go about increasing your penis length and diameter.

COMPLETE INSTRUCTIONS INCLUDED WITH ENLARGER

Do not accept a cheaper substitute enlarger with the Scott Taylor Video and Pump Promotion. We offer the most durable enlarger available for only $24.95. We also include the video FREE. The video sold separately at our wholesale price of only $5.00.

NEXT MONTH IN HUSTLER

June HUSTLER on sale April 13, 1993

BARE ESSENTIALS

HUSTLER in June strips down to flesh appeal with six lip-smacking, lap-attacking sirens dressing down and up for spring. Squeeze into the piston-fired lube job of a hands-on body mechanic and his fat-titted, trim-fitted grease monkey in the grungiest grind of the year; head southeast to slip a taste of Western beef to the pink, perfumed portals of an Asian geisha in the California sun; strap into the leather-bound thigh-jinks of two whip-wielding kinkstresses vying for the upper hand while tying up their tight 'n' loose rear ends; goggle as a high-fashion model pops out of her panties when turning her best side to the camera; and dick-de-tonate a busty, blond bombshell on a tropical beach, front and back. Spring comes full flower in HUSTLER in June. Grab a handful.

SPACE SUIT

Recent surveys by the Roper Organization indicate that as many as three million Americans may have unknowingly been contacted by extraterrestrials. A growing number of academics, clinicians and mental-health workers, including psychologists from Harvard University, have come to believe that the "alien-abduction phenomenon" described in many reported cases of UFO sightings are true. Typical UFO abductees relate saucer-based laboratory procedures in which sperm is collected from males, eggs are taken from females, and hybrid fetuses are implanted in human women to be removed later. Alien Attention, by phenomena researcher Al Hazrad, warns of women being required by otherworldly beings to hold and share skin-on-skin contact with babies that look half-human and half-not—evidence of a horrifying program for the production of mutant offspring.

TIJUANA BRASS

Zona Roja, in Tijuana, Mexico, is the creamo supremo of border-town red zones. T. J.'s cantinas and cathouses spiced up the tourist trap long before Prohibition brought liquor-starved movie stars from Hollywood, casinos with 24-karat gold fixtures and the world's longest bar. Today, Tijuana's tacky, festering sexual slum faces the ultimate degradation: civic beautification. Infamous dive bars such as La Carreta and El Gallo have become endangered species in Tijuana's official cleanup, as have El Infierno's notorious Girls of Hell. Writer Lin Robinson details the decline of the donkey town in Sleaze Takes a Siesta, a fitting tribute to the seamiest source of the expression "nude, screwed and tattooed."

NUTS AND JOLTS

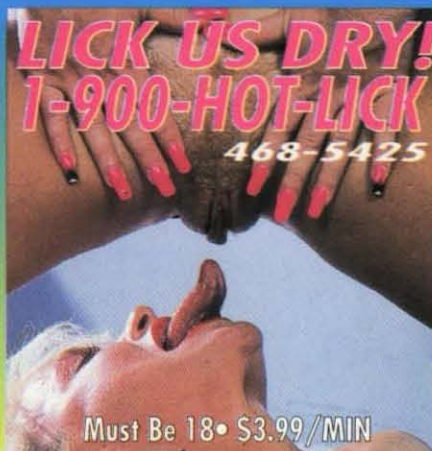

Nowhere is spousal abuse more commonplace than in lesbian relationships, and carpet munchers' love affairs are anything but gay, reports HUSTLER veteran Larry Wichman in the dyke-probing "Bashing Gash." HUSTLER's Sex Play for June; Hot Letters licks and stamps a sackful of salacious scribulation; Beaver Hunt goes banging door to door to mount the choicest tails in American womanhood; and Bits & Pieces bugs June with a four-fingered jerk of the funny bone. HUSTLER in June bags the best of the season. Spring to it.
